Friday and Saturday Are Appreciation Days With Bargains, Free Swims, Parking, Buses

Sedalia stores are planning many bargains for Appreciation Days, which will be held Friday and Saturday of this week.

Feeling that they should offer something special to the people who trade with them throughout the entire year the retail division of the Chamber of Commerce, of which George E. Dugan Sr., is director, plans to have many things on sale at greatly reduced prices. This particular event is under the special promotions committee of which Harry S. Naugel is chairman.

The third year for such a promotion, it has previously been successful with many people taking advantage of the big sales.

It seems the retail merchants division thinks of everything when they put on this promotion. What about the children? Where will they be during the time mother wants to shop?

With every purchase this week, tickets for free swims for children under 16 will be given, and the youngsters may spend the time at the park swimming pool where life guards are there to watch. Nothing could please the boys and girls more on these hot days. The park board, of which John Vandekamp is chairman, has cooperated to give the youngsters a treat and the mothers time to shop.

The town always has a queer look on Appreciation Days. All of the parking meters have paper sacks over them. Mayor Julian H. Bagby and the City Council are going along with the Chamber of Commerce by covering up the meters so that customers may park their cars free on those two days.

In the other two years, merchants and business people in the downtown section have defeated their own cause by taking advantage of the free parking and parking their cars there themselves, which rather discourages the shoppers when they can't find a place to put their cars.

"Ah, free parking today, this is swell," thinks the business man, "I can just park right out in front of my business." And he can. But when every other business man and woman has the same idea, and all of the people who work for them, then there isn't going to be any place left for the customers and they aren't going to appreciate such an attitude in the least.

After all, these are the two days set aside to show the customers that the business people of Sedalia do value their trade and to prove it each must cooperate to the fullest by seeing that they and their personnel do not park at the sack-covered meters

For the shoppers who do not have cars there is a special privilege, too. Marvin Howard, of the Sedalia Bus Company, is donating free bus rides to town between the hours of 9 a.m. and noon. The outgoing traffic will pay the usual fare, but during the mornings, both Friday and Saturday, the bus rides to the shopping district downtown are free.

Premier Chou To India

Red China's Chief To See Nehru, Then Return to Geneva; Hopes for Peace

GENEVA (AP) — Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai left the Indochina peace conference by plane today to visit Indian Prime Minister Nehru in New Delhi and then go on to Peiping.

Intimating he would return to the Geneva parley, Chou in a brief farewell statement said he was leaving "for the time being."

The conference, he added, is "still in progress" and the world's "peace-loving peoples hope our work will lead to the eventual establishment of peace in Indochina."

Chou made no mention of his two-hour meeting in Bern yesterday with France's new Premier-Foreign Minister, Pierre Mendes-France. But both men after their talks issued brief statements saying they believed the delegates at Geneva would make progress toward an armistice as a result of their meeting.

Chou left Geneva in a special Indian plane. He is due in New Delhi tomorrow, to remain there for three days.

Mendes-France returned to Paris last night, to present his Cabinet today to the National Assembly for its approval. On his arrival in the French capital, he told reporters: "We can be optimistic about the approaching development of the Geneva conference."

Neither French nor Chinese sources, however, gave any indication of what the two premiers said to each other. The results of their meeting — on which the entire outcome of the Geneva peace talks appeared to depend — may not become known for several days.

The nine delegations at Geneva were to resume their secret general sessions this afternoon, after a one-day recess. They have been deadlocked over Communist dedands for a vote on any commission set up to supervise an Indochina armistice.

Mendes-France, in winning National Assembly approval last week of his premiership, promised to obtain a peace agreement for Indochina by July 20 or resign. He said France would agree to an armistice only on "honorable" terms.

There were some indications that Mendes-France was ready to show more elasticity in dealing with the Reds than did his predecessor as foreign minister, Georges Bidault.

The Premier was understood to have authorized his chief delegate at Geneva, Jean Chauvel, to agree to face-to-face negotiations with Vietminh Foreign Minister Pham Van Dong. Bidault had refused to deal with Dong except in the impersonal forum of the nine-party sessions.

Chou was the last of the top-ranking delegates to leave the conference. The other major delegations have been headed by an ambassador or junior minister since last weekend, when British Foreign Secretary Eden, U.S. Undersecretary of State Bedell Smith and Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov all went home.

Reported Dead, Carhop Is Visiting Family

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An El Centro carhop reported slain and buried in Mexican badlands was alive today, having a reunion with her parents here.

Police said Shirley Fields, 28, known also as Mrs. Shirley Taylor Lewis, had been working in a Main Street cocktail bar. A patrolman identified her from a picture.

Marvin C. Boyd, 29, of Lebanon, Pa., told El Centro authorities last week that he shot her while under the influence of narcotics, and buried her near the Mexican border.

A search of the area failed to disclose a grave.

Boyd is held in El Centro on three bad check charges.

Seek to Have SAFB Named for Whiteman

Base Is Being Re-named and Civic Groups Are Asked to Back Nomination of Sedalian, First U. S. Airman Killed at Pearl Harbor

The United States Air Force plans to rename the Sedalia Air Force Base in memory of some native Air Force hero, or some nationally prominent deceased figure. The Air Forc some weeks ago issued an authorization to accept nominations for the project and Col. Franklin K. Reyher, commanding officer at the SAFB, is already in receipt of several suggestions.

Sedalia is sponsoring the name of the late Second Lieutenant George A. Whiteman, the first Missouri casualty in World War II and believed to be the first airman killed in the Pearl Harbor attack on Sunday, Dec. 7, 1941. He was the son of Mrs. Earlie Whiteman, 623 West 24th, and John C. Whiteman, Kansas City, who lost a second son in Korea in action with the U.S. Marines.

A letter has been sent to veterans organizations, chambers of commerce, cities and others for name suggestions by Col. Reyher.

A portion of the letter is as follows:

"In receiving nominations for renaming of the base, consideration will be given only to deceased Air Force persons who have performed heroic feats in air, or whose outstanding services have brought honor to the Air Force, or to persons of national prominence who should be thus honored. It is suggested that your group or some other civic organization in your community nominate individuals worthy of the honor. Your recommendations should include the following data: name, rank or grade, branch of service, service or serial number of deceased, biographical data pertaining to the person, including photos, copies of citations and awards, newspaper clippings, and other data, and reasons why the person should be memorialized. Names which are a duplication of, or might cause confusion with, the names of another designated installation cannot me accepted.

"In making your recommendation, the following should be taken into consideration: 1. absolue preeminance by a high position such as to be a national hero; 2. outstanding performance of duties of great responsibilities with major contribution to the mission or development of the Air Force; 3. heroism with death as a result of wounds received in action against an enemy; 4. heroism or high responsibility with death not as a result of battle wounds."

The nominations should be addressed to the Commander of the 340th Air Base Group, marked: "Attention: Information Service Officer, Sedalia Air Force Base, Sedalia, Mo.," and mailed to reach the local base office not later than July 10.

Sedalians feel the qualifications for the name of Whiteman are fulfilled with his acts at Pearl Harbor when he endeavored to take his plane into the air to fight the invaders. He was shot down with a spray of machine gun bullets from a Japanese plane and died instantly.

Additional supporting evidence of Whiteman's heroic act during the attack are contained in letters from such prominent state officials as the late Dwight H. Brown, then secretary of state, Brig. Gen. Harold R. Harmon, former U.S. Senator Bennett C. Clark of Missouri, and from the then Chief of Staff Gen. George C. Marshall. There are many others too numerous to mention.

A complete history of Whiteman, as given at memorial services conducted at the East Sedalia Baptist Church with the Rev. W. P. Arnold officiating, has also been included.

In part it was brought out that Whiteman enlisted in the artillery in 1939, transferred to the Air Corps and first attended Ryan Flying School, Lindbergh Field, Calif. He then went to Kelly Field, Tex., and was graduated from Randolph Field in 1940. After going to Hamilton Field, Calif., he was sent to Pearl Harbor and was stationed there from February, 1941, until his death.

Civic organizations in Sedalia are requested to write to Col. Reyher endorsing the move for the field to be named after Whiteman. The interest of all Sedalia must be exhibited to impress the Air Force officials that should the name be changed, it be changed to the "GEORGE A. WHITEMAN AIR FORCE BASE."

Veterans organizations have already been contacted and many have already sent in their information.

Calls for Strong Park Systems to Provide Recreation Chances

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo. (AP)—The director of the National Park Service today decried the lack of a well-rounded, over-all recreation plan for the Missouri River Basin and called for strong state park systems "to provide recreation opportunities."

Conrad L. Wirth made the statements in a talk prepared for the 74th meeting of the Missouri Basin Inter-Agency Committee in Yellowstone National Park.

Wirth said the 10 basin states are all interested in providing park and recreation areas for their citizens.

House, Senate Agree On Appropriations For US Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agreement was reached by Senate and House conferees late yesterday on the money bill to run the defense establishment in the fiscal year starting July 1.

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) said the total would be "slightly less than 29 billion dollars"—a little under administration budget requests.

The House and Senate must still approve the compromise, an adjustment of varying versions they had passed earlier.

Another appropriation bill, carrying $723,683,150 in new cash for the Agriculture Department, was sent to the White House yesterday. The total is about 25 million dollars more than President Eisenhower asked.

Mayor Dale Accepts Mayor Bagby's Bid For Milking Contest

The inter-city milking contest by the mayors of Sedalia and St. Joseph is on. Each has accepted the other's challenge and they will meet twice to decide the champion.

Mayor Stanley I. Dale of St. Joseph issued the first challenge, asking any mayor in Northwest Missouri to meet him in a contest at the Pony Express Rodeo Sept. 24 in St. Joe.

Mayor Julian Bagby of Sedalia accepted Dale's bid and at the same time extended him a challenge to a milking contest on Mayor's Day, Aug. 24, at the Missouri State Fair.

Dale has now accepted Bagby's bid, made through Claude Boul, president of the Chamber of Commerce. Dale wired Boul:

"Acknowledge with pleasure Mayor Bagby's acceptance of my invitation to participate in milking contest here Sept. 24. It will be a pleasure to soundly defeat the mayor of Sedalia in a preliminary contest at the Missouri State Fair on Aug. 23. Please advise time and place."

Guat'mala Fighting By Words

Propaganda Battle And Diplomatic War Overshadow Attempts For Ground Affrays

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP)—The Guatemalan War entered its seventh day today with most of the fighting still apparently raging over the propaganda airwaves and in the diplomatic arena. There was no indication of a major battle shaping up anywhere.

The anti-Communist "liberation army" seemingly was bogged down by lack of transport just north of the Honduran border. The army of Red-backed President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman still had not made an appearance in force in the field.

There were these developments:

1. Seven persons were reported wounded, three gravely, when Honduran police fired on a Tegucigalpa crowd watching a pro-Arbenz, anti-U.S. demonstration by students in the Honduran capital last night. Later thousands of the students and townspeople gathered to parade through the city.

2. Honduras charged a Guatemalan airplane bombed a Honduran airfield Tuesday. The Tegucigalpa government said it is protesting to the United Nations and to the Organization of American States. U. N. sources in New York said last night the international organization had not yet received the protest, the third filed in connection with the fighting. Guatemala has entered two, one of which still is pending.

3. Guatemala promptly denied the bombing charge. Guatemalan Foreign Minister Guillermo Toriello said in a statement "not a single Guatemalan plane has flown toward the Honduran frontier."

4. The OAS's Inter-American Peace Commission, meeting in Washington, referred to Guatemala a proposal by Honduras and Nicaragua that the five-nation body make an on-the-spot investigation of charges by the Arbenz government that the two neighboring republics supported "aggression" against Guatemala. Commission Chairman Luis Quintanilla of Mexico said he hoped the Guatemalan government would accept this "generous offer" promptly.

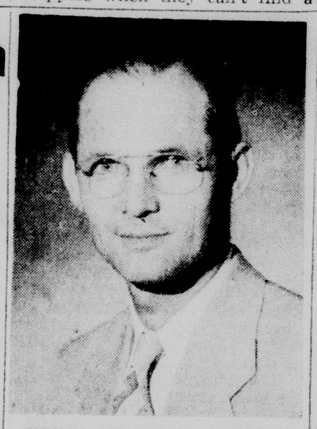

5. Nicaragua formally denied it was guilty of any aggression. In a cable to the U. N., Nicaraguan Foreign Minister Oscar Sevilla Sacasa said the charges were intended to conceal the Communist affiliations of the Arbenz government.

6. A Guatemalan broadcast said President Arbenz has assured U.S. Ambassador John Peurifoy in Guatemala City the safety of U. S. citizens living in that country would be assured. There had been reports earlier that the embassy was planning to airlift out the nearly 1,200 Americans there.

The progress of the rival armies was clouded by a welter of conflicting reports, many of them obvious propaganda claims. One rebel broadcast claimed the insurgent forces led by Col. Carlos Castillo Armas were moving on Guatemala City from three sides. A government broadcast said the rebels had been repulsed and were fleeing toward Honduras.

Col. Castillo was reported to have moved his headquarters from Esquipulas, six miles north of the Honduran border, to a town near Chiquimula. This city is about 20 miles south of Zacapa, a key town on the vital railroad from Puerto Barrios and an obvious target of the invaders.

Newsment who visited Castillo at Esquipulas earlier yesterday said the rebel forces appeared bogged down for lack of transport. Castillo, himself, said heavy rains and a lack of organization in the first stages had been his main obstacles.

HERE AS WIRE CHIEF—Cecil A. Wyett, formerly personnel development supervisor of the Southwestern Bell Telephone office in St. Louis, has been transferred to Sedalia, where he will be district wire chief in charge of installation and maintenance of Bell services in 26 towns. Wyett succeeds W. T. Book, who has been appointed personnel development supervisor in St. Louis. Having taken up his duties here, Mr. Wyett has purchased his home at 2105 West 14th. His wife and two daughters are presently in Springfield, but plan to join him soon.

Eisenhower Not In Favor Of Hiss Pay

Rep. Clardy Believes Someone Starts Fights For the White House

(R-Mich) said today he is convinced some members of the Eisenhower administration make "mistakes deliberately to start trouble between Congress and the White House."

Clardy called for a "cleanup" in executive agencies as a result of confusion earlier this week about the administration's attitude toward a government pension for Alger Hiss.

The Michigan Republican told newsmen they were "fully justified" in interpreting the publicly-stated position of two top federal agencies to mean the administration opposed legislation to deny Hiss and other convicted felons the right to collect federal retirement pay.

Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, said the exact opposite was true.

Hiss is a former ranking official of the State Department who has been convicted of swearing falsely when he said he never passed secrets to a Communist spy ring. Under existing law, he is eligible for a $700-a-year federal pension when he reaches the age of 62.

The House Civil Service Committee is holding hearings on bills by Clardy and Rep. St. George (R-NY) that would specifically deny a pension to Hiss.

News stories on Tuesday reported the Civil Service Commission and the Budget Bureau took the position the government must go through with retirement pay to federal employes even when they are imprisoned for criminal acts. The views of these agencies were sent to the House committee.

Hagerty said yesterday he was at a loss to understand how anyone could conclude the administration was against legislation to deny Hiss a pension.

The presidential secretary said neither of the two government agencies had sent their reports on the matter to the White House. Additionally, Hagerty said, the wrong conclusions had been drawn from the statements of the two executive agencies.

Eisenhower, Hagerty said, is very much in favor of denying Hiss a pension.

Hopeful Ia. Dikes Can Hold

Biggest Des Moines River Flood Nears Crest Today With Pressure to Last

DES MOINES (AP)—Optimism that the dikes will hold grew today as the biggest Des Moines River flood in history reached its crest.

But city officials, warned that levees will be subjected to the maximum pressure for several hours, ordered increased vigilance against any breaks which could put a fifth of the city under water.

The Weather Bureau said the rampaging river reached its peak of 29.98 feet about 2 a.m. It had predicted a crest of 30 feet, 3½ feet above the previous record set in 1947 and 7 feet above flood stage.

The bureau warned that the river is carrying a "long, flat crest" which will hold the angry waters at their peak level until about 11 a.m. and exert maximum pressure against the strained dikes all that time. The bureau said it then would decline slowly the next four hours.

Some 7,500 persons had left their homes, mostly in a precautionary move in case the softened levees gave way.

But city officials said they thought the flooding could be kept in hand at all major trouble points.

"We think we have the situation pretty well licked," said City Manager Leonard Howell.

Major trouble spots continued to be the levee around Riverview Park and at Hayes Street, which protects the east side business district.

Water trickled across the Riverview Park levee after workers had abandoned efforts to save it because backwater from already inundated Birdland Park had flooded the area it was designed to protect.

Sand boils continued to develop behind the Hayes Street dike, which engineers explained was built on porous, filled land.

Stores in the threatened east side business district moved stock and equipment from basements as a precautionary measure but workers were erecting a secondary levee behind the permanent one and said they thought they could contain the water which bubled from the sand boils.

There was water in more than half the 75 to 100 houses in an area north of Birdland Park where a secondary dike break yesterday let the water through. But in spite of that some residents refused to leave. They moved their furniture into the second floor or onto the roof and prepared to wait out the flood.

Meanwhile, President Eisenhower named 19 Iowa counties disaster areas, thus qualifying them for federal aid. In a wire to Gov. William S. Beardsley the President expressed his "utmost sympathy" for Iowa flood victims.

The counties designated disaster areas were Sioux, Plymouth, Cherokee, Woodbury, Minona, Harrison, Ida, Clay, Calhoun, Kossuth, Humboldt, Webster, Boone, Hamilton, Hancock, Cerro Gordo, Franklin, Hardin and Polk.

State Polio Chapters Paid Medical Costs Totaling $724,388

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) —Missouri chapters of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis spent $724,388 for hospital and medical costs of polio patients last year.

Reporting the figures today, Sparky Stalcup, state March of Dimes chairman, noted that the amount was $120,000 more than the 1952 total.

Colorado Springs Gets Air Academy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Johnson (D-Colo) said today Colorado Springs has been chosen as the site of the new Air Force Academy.

He said he was advised by Secretary of the Air Force Talbott that Denver had been chosen as location of the academy temporarily.

Talbott was expected to make the official announcement momentarily.

He had under consideration three possible sites: Colorado Springs, Lake Geneva, Wis., and Alton, Ill.

Churchill Sees His Top Aids Before Leaving

Makes Final Study Of Diplomatic Plan For Ike Conference

BULLETIN

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill left for Washington aboard the stratocruiser "Canopus" tonight to see President Eisenhower and try to resolve British-American differences in world affairs.

The 79-year-old premier, smiling broadly and with a big black cigar gripped in his teeth, was in a happy mood as he departed with Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and a small party of advisers and secretaries.

Cheers of "Good Old Winnie" went up from the watching crowd as Churchill walked to the plane.

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill conferred with his top ministers and military advisors today a few hours before leaving for Washington seeking to mend his partnership with President Eisenhower.

The British leaders were believed to have made a final study of diplomatic problems which have given rise to British-American misunderstandings.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden the heir apparent to government leadership, will accompany Churchill.

Churchill had an especially long session with the British defense minister, Field Marshal Lord Alexander, who left immediately afterward by air for Paris to convey Britain's views on the consequences of any French rejection of the European army plan.

Churchill and Eden were reported by aides determined to tell the American leaders Britain intends backing any French-approved settlement in Indochina. The informants said they will urge the United States to do likewise in the interests of Allied unity.

In another development on the diplomatic front Soviet Ambassador Jacob A. Malik left by plane for Moscow for consultations with Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov. This has been the custom for Soviet envoys in the past when Allied chiefs enter major talks.

The British party was scheduled to leave for Washington at 7:30 p.m.

Guatemala Wants Talk on Bombing Of Open Cities

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Guatemala has asked that the U. N. Security Council meet sometime today in an urgent session to discuss "intense air attacks" on open cities in Guatemala.

The U. N. made public a message from Eduardo Castillo-Arriola, Guatemalan ambassador to the U. N., who already had unsuccessfully attempted to have the council meet today on the Guatemalan case.

In the message, dispatched late last night, Castillo-Arriola said: "In view of intense air attacks on open cities in Guatemala, where civil population has been machinegunned and bombed with 100-pound explosives, and the warning of the aggressors broadcast through their clandestine radio station of being about to unleash heavy bombing of Guatemala City and other important cities, I officially request an urgent meeting of the security council not later than tomorrow, June 24."

The message was transmitted this morning to Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U. S. delegate and council president for June. There was no immediate reaction from Lodge.

Army Issues August Draft Call for 23,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army today issued a draft call for 23,000 men in August.

The new call is the same as that previously announced for July and brings the total number of men drafted or earmarked for induction since September 1950 to 1,743,430.

U.S. Cold Shoulders Churchill

British Propose A Locarno-type Security System In Southeast Asia

WASHINGTON (AP) —The United States today cold-shouldered the Churchill government's proposal, on the eve of Churchill-Eisenhower talks here, for a Locarno-type system of security guarantees for re-threatened Southeast Asia.

Under such a system the United States and Communist China presumably would be among the power guaranteeing some kind of Southeast Asian settlement. Wartorn Indochina, according to the view of officials here, probably would be "neutralized."

In response to a request for comment on the proposal and other aspects of a foreign policy speech to Parliament yesterday by Foreign Secretary Eden, a state department spokesman said:

"We were not informed of the content of Mr. Eden's speech in advance of its delivery, we have not received a text of his remarks and therefore have no comment."

The emphasis on not being informed and the failure to make any softening comment gave a strong indication of official United States reaction, which authorities would amplify only in private comment.

In fact, the idea of non-aggression, security treaties of the type worked out at Locarno between the two world wars is regarded by American officials as having no value whatever as applied to Southeast Asia.

Secretary of State Dulles and President Eisenhower have repeatedly made clear that they do not think Communist governments can ever be counted on to maintain such guarantees and that there is danger of a false sense of security on the part of the West.

In addition, aides of Dulles were reported angry that Eden had given no preliminary hint of his proposal and that he had in their view interposed a new condition in the way of British agreement to what Dulles has been working for — an anti-Communist security pact in which Britain, the United States, France and Asian and Pacific nations would join to secure as much as possible of Indochina against Red conquest.

Today's Washington reaction added one more evidence that the talks which will be opened at the White House tomorrow among President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Churchill, Eden and Dulles will be held against a background of personal indignation, even elements of hostility as well as differences over fundamental policy questions.

For the moment, at least, hope of any substantial agreement on major issues has receded. The enthusiastic belief of American officials a few days ago that Churchill and Eden would be prepared to join in the Southeast Asia defense pact in the near future has given way to resentment at Eden's new position.

Diplomats are beginning to wonder whether the high-level talks here through the weekend will produce any real reconciliation of basic differences.

Cape Girardeau Youth To Boys' State Helm

WARRENSBURG (AP)—Robert S. Hunt, Cape Girardeau, today was elected governor of Missouri Boys' State in a close election.

Hunt, nominee of the Federalists, defeated Robert W. Martin, Columbia, 281 to 266.

Crossroads Comment . . . by G.H.S.

For about a week now it has been awfully quiet here in Sedalia. The hot weather seems to have sapped the energy of the "issue raisers."

This can't go on for long. Somebody's steam boiler is going to let out a toot and others will come a running to join in the argumentative harangue, no matter whether they know anything about it or not.

What Sedalia needs is a college of osme sort. Seems like lately every time there's a riot or clash of opinion throughout the world a leftist element of college students figures in the fighting or shooting.

It appears old Ben Franklin's axiom still holds true: "A learned blockhead is a greater blockhead than an ignorant one."

Freed Doctors Tell of Aid Given to Make Men Not Ask For Help—

Red Medics Gave POWs Fantastic Treatment

By RENNIE TAYLOR
A PScience Reporter

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The North Koreans had some fantastic medical treatments for their prisoners of war, a U.S. Army doctor reported today

Prisoners complaining of vitamin deficiencies were given bile from the gall bladders of butchered pigs, Maj. Alexander M. Boysen, of the Brooke Army Medical Center, Ft. Sam Houston, Tex., told the American Medical Assn.

This treatment did a good job of keeping men away from sick call.

For the treatment of pain a Chinese doctor used a series of short needles attached to spring vibrators. The needles were put into the skin around the painful area and made to vibrate.

"As you might suspect," Maj Boysen said, "some cases of back pain and headache were cured by this treatment."

Another Chinese doctor decided all complaints of eye trouble were caused by glaucoma, a condition in which the fluid pressure in the eyeball increases. The Chinese medic treated all eye patients with salt water injections under the eyelid, the medical officer reported.

Maj. Boysen who is from Bemidji, Minn., spoke of the experiences of himself and four other medical officers who had been captured. The others were Maj. Clarence L. Anderson of Long Beach, Calif., now at Letterman Hospital San Francisco; Maj. Sidney Esensten, now in private practice in Minneapolis; Capt. Gene M. Lam of Glenrock, Wyo., now at Brooke Medical Center, and Capt. William R. Shadish, of Kew Gardens, N.Y., now at Walter Reed Army Center, Washington, D. C.

In the spring of 1953 food became so scarce that prisoners ate boiled weeds, Boysen reported.

Frequently the only medicines available were cough tablets for pneumonia and charcoal tablets for dysentery. Incisions for drainage of abscesses were made without anaesthesia and sometimes with improvised instruments, such as the metal arch support from a combat boot.

Virtually all deaths in the Communist war prison camps were caused directly or indirectly by starvation, exposure and harassment, Boysen said.

The average Chinese doctor would treat only the chief complaint of a prisoner, said the officer.

A patient suffering from both night blindness and diarrhea had to choose one of the two for treatment.

In another report Dr. Louis H. Bauer of New York said a plan should be worked out so that all physicians would serve in the armed forces for a definite period shortly after graduation.

Dr. Bauer said the AMA reluctantly supported the present doctor draft law and that it is becoming unpopular. An alternative, he said, would be a wide education of the profession as to the need for military service.

Dr. Bauer said some doctors who had been notified had arranged their affairs and then had been kept waiting for months before being actually called.

He said there were rumors also that doctors were being discharged from the services a month or two before their minimum years are completed, thereby making them subject to a second call.

Believe Water Fully Covers Planet Venus

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—If and when any space navigators ever reach the planet Venus, they'd better be equipped with rowboats — because two Harvard astronomers today offered a new theory that "an ocean of water completely covers the planet."

And, presumably, the spaceship itself would have to be equipped with parking pontoons—or at least an outboard motor.

But take heart, you would-be spacemen. The astornomers said it may be an ocean of "carbonated" water — not too bad for a sociable Scotch and soda as you pull on the oars.

"Because of the large amount of carbon dioxide in the Venusian atmosphere, the ocean would probably consist of seltzer water, although I daresay it would be rather flat," Dr. Donald Menzel smilingly told a reporter.

He and Dr. Fred Whipple presented a joint report on the subject to the annual meeting of the American Astronomical Society, convened at the University of Michigan.

Their concept differs sharply from a common one that Venus is an arid desert with little or no water, and where the temperature may be more than hot enough to boil water anyway.

The scientists offered a series of arguments against a common concept that the thick bank of clouds that entirely envelopes the planet consists of dust — not of water as do the earth's clouds. Bulwark of the older concept was that there is no evidence of water in the spectrum of Venus' light as studied on Earth.

But Menzel and Whipple said another astronomer has recently found that the atmosphere above the Venusian clouds is too cold to hold any appreciable water vapor and this fact, they added, may explain the failure to find water in the Venus spectrum — without ruling out the possibility of there being water in the clouds themselves.

Saying that this satisfies them that the Venusian clouds are waterlogged, the astronomers declared it must follow that the planet itself has a lot of water.

SAFB Officers' Wives Get Insight to the B-47 Bomber

An afternoon's program, planned to acquaint the wives of the 486th Bomb Squadron of the Sedalia Air Force Base with their husbands' flying duties and to give them an insight into the dynamic personality of the B-47 Stratojet bomber, was held Friday, June 18, in the 486th Bomb Squadron's operations building.

Mrs. H. W. Robb was hostess at a punch party that began the afternoon's events. Mrs. C. C. Cox, Mrs. F. K. Reyher and Mrs. C. V. Neil poured, assisted by Mrs. W. M. Fillenworth and Mrs. F. P. Sabin. Special guests were Air Force nurses stationed at the base.

Following the serving of punch, an impressive movie, "The B-47 Story," was shown to squadron members and their wives.

Colonel H. W. Robb, squadron commander, then welcomed all present with a short address, explaining the activities of the 486th and its achievements to date, and pointed out the squadron's insignia, a gleeful Bugs Bunny up to his usual mischief, poised to toss a bomb.

A mock briefing was held to illustrate one of the many preflight preparations that a single flying mission entails. The briefing was conducted by Maj. J. Hall, Lt. J. Dougherty, Maj. T. Bradbury, Capt. Hanson and Maj. Limebeck. Officers being priefed were Maj. Z. Hall, Lt. D. Hargreaves and Lt. G. Wallesverd.

A surprise gift, a radio for the squadron's ready room, was presented by Mrs. H. W. Robb from the wives of squadron members.

The program continued with a style show given by the officers to familiarize the guests with the different types of uniforms worn by the men under various conditions and climates. Capt. G. Roberts appeared in a flying suit complete with Mae West jacket, parachute, helmet, oxygen mask and survival kit, resembling indeed a man from outer space. The new look in winter flying suits was worn by Lt. G. Wallesverd, a two-piece blue woolen version. Lt. E. Webb appeared in an anti-exposure suit, a rubberized suit designed to protect its wearer from the cold and to keep him afloat when downed in water. In spite of the hot, humid day, Capt. D. Patch bravely modeled cold weather gear, including a fur-lined parka, pants and mukluks. A humorous climax to the style show was added by Capt. R. Farlow, who appeared in informal attire depicting what the well-dressed airman wears at home—cool and comfortable with well-chilled accessories.

Following the style show, open house was held through the rest of the operations and engineering buildings.

The highlight of the day arrived with the opportunity for the guests and wives of officer members to see first-hand the B-47 on the ramp. The 486th Engineering section had placed maintenance stands and ladders around the aircraft to aid the visitors in a close inspection of the interior and exterior of the jet bomber. This rare occasion to view the B-47 at close range was received with great enthusiasm and interest, and left a deep impression that will long be remembered by those to whom the opportunity was given.

It would cost $100,000 to fire all the guns on the battleship Missouri for one minute.

Latin-America Avoids Stand On Guatemala

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Most Latin-American governments have discreetly avoided taking any official stand on the Guatemalan War which exploded on their doorsteps last week. But many political leaders, newspapers and Leftist student groups throughout the southern lands are busily fanning resentment against the United States.

Government leaders have generally adopted a wait-and-see attitude, apparently desiring to offend neither the United States nor the embattled regime of Leftist President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman.

But many individual legislators make no bones of their belief that the United States is backing the rebel forces which seek to overthrow Arbenz' Communist-backed government.

There have been demonstrations against the United States in many of its southern neighbors since the war broke out, but most of them have been sparked by student groups which are traditionally Leftist.

The general trend of official sentiment was reflected in Argentina, where President Juan D. Peron's majority bloc in Congress proposed that American Parliaments work together to bring peace and "economic independence" to Guatemala.

The proposal indicated Argentina plans to steer an officially neutral course. But the anti-Perbn Radical party, which controls only 14 seats in the 158-member House, tendered its sympathies to the Arbenz government.

The governments of Chile and Uruguay refrained from taking a stand even though their Parliaments had voted through resolutions espousing the Arbenz cause.

The vote in Chile's Chamber of Deputies was 34-15, with the rest of 147 members abstaining. Foreign Minister Roberto Aldunate later told newsmen his government would not indulge in "lyric statements," but would express its views in international organizations "which know the problem."

Uruguayan government leaders also were close-mouthed, although their Colorado party fought hard in Parliament to defeat a resolution condemning "aggression in in Guatemala." Despite this opposition, the resolution was adopted—by two votes.

The government of Cuba—whose President Fulgencio Batista himself came to power on the tide of revolt—declined to make any comment. But earlier this week Ernesto de la Fe, a member of Batista's Cabinet, called on Cuba to recognize the insurgent government proclaimed by the Guatemalan rebel leader, Col. Carlos Castillo Armas.

Brazil also kept officially silent on the Guatemalan conflict. But it was Brazil which co-sponsored—with Colombia—a proposal to the U. N. Security Council Sunday which would have referred the issue to the Organization of American States. This proposal, strongly favored by the United States, was killed by a Soviet veto.

Venezuela remained officially aloof.

Costa Rica has declared that she intends to remain absolutely neutral in the conflict.

Honduras and Nicaragua have limited their official comment to denials of Guatemalan charges that they served as launching bases for the invasion.

Latin-American newspapers, less restrained than their governments, reflected various shades of opinion. Comments included:

Argentina: La Epoca, which often expresses government views, said "world censure of the invaders is almost unanimous, because the invasion is seen as a danger to the liberty of a country to choose the govern it desires." La Epoca also implied that the United States was to blame for the fighting in Guatemala.

Brazil: The opposition Diario Carioca commented, "It would be wise that the United States revise carefully the arguments which are serving to dramatize the case of Guatemala and justify continental intervention in the affairs of that republic."

British Honduras: The Belize Billboard, organ of the recently victorious Peoples' United Party — which has close links with Arbenz, accused the United States of keeping Guatemala from bringing its second plea before the U. N. Security Council. It charged the United States with trying to prevent any form of U. N. aid for Arbenz's regime.

Uruguayan papers generally blasted the Arbenz regime as a Communist threat, but they also criticized the United States for its diplomatic policy.

Mexico City's leading newspaper Excelsior has come out strongly against the Arbenz government, although Mexicans generally have sympathized with the Guatemalan president.

In Chile, Santiago's Conservative newspaper El Mercurio also has roundly criticized Arbenz.

DANCING HORSE PERFORMS — El Natan, one of the Arabian horses taking part in an unusual square dance in a recent show at California State Polytechnic College in Pomona, is shown mounted by Mrs. Arthur Prosser, formerly of Sedalia. The Annual Spring All Arabian Horse show featured the square dance on horseback by a group called the Debkah Dancers. Mrs. Prosser conceived the name and directed the dance. Mr. Prosser served as caller.

Miss Doris Green Is Recent Bride Of Mr. Campbell C. Barnds 3rd

Miss Doris Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Green, route one, became the bride of Mr. Campbell C. Barnds III, son of Mrs. William D. Comer, Kansas City, in a double ring ceremony solemnized by the Rev. David Funk at 2:30 p. m., May 30, at the Trinity Lutheran Church.

Candelabra holding tall white tapers formed a background for arrangements of pedestal baskets and altar vases of pink and white majectic daisies. Arrangements of jade foliage and white gladioli and daisies banked the communion rail. The center aisle pews were decorated with pink and white daisies and white satin bows.

As the guests assembled, Mrs. Elmer Fingland played nuptial music. Mrs. Jack Herndon sang "Oh, Perfect Love," "Because" and at the close of the ceremony Mr. Leonard Englund sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The candlelighters were Miss Lennea Kay Neff and Richard M. Barnds, brother of the groom. Miss Neff wore a gown styled like the bride's attendants and Master Barnds dressed as the bridegroom and groomsmen.

Preceding the bride down the aisle were Miss Sarah Jane Muller, serving as flower girl, and Master John Anderson, serving as ring-bearer. Sarah Jane wore a gown of white net over taffeta fashioned with an illusion yoke outlined in a tiny row of rusching, short sleeves, fitted bodice and the full skirt dotted with flowers. She carried a basket of rose petals, which she distributed along the aisle. Master Anderson was dressed in formal attire.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white nylon tulle over wedding ring satin designed with all over Schiffle embroidery. The molded bodice was fashioned with collar and tiny covered buttons down the back and on the sleeves. The bouffant skirt of tulle featured a Dutch apron of embroidery and circled into an aisle-wide train. Her double fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tiny bonnet of lilacs. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and blue delphinium.

Miss Jane Morgan, Sedalia, was maid of honor, and Miss Lois Richardson, St. Louis, and Miss Marcia Swiney, Pana, Ill., were bridesmaids. They wore floor length gowns of white nylon tulle over taffeta fashioned with an open boat neck outlined in a design of pearls, short cap sleeves and fitted shirred bodice. The bouffant skirts of tulle were worn over hoops. Their headdress was a band of white lilacs with a little face veil. They wore white gloves and carried large bouquets of pink bountiful roses, tied with nile green satin.

Mr. Robert Winchester, New York, acted as best man and Mr. Harvey Schulte, St. Louis; Mr. Virgil Powell, Centralia and Mr. Richard Berg, St. Louis, served as groomsmen and ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Green chose a dress of navy blue silk and pink and white accessories. Her corsage was pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink dress and her accessories were white. Her corsage was pink roses and delphinium.

The wedding was followed by a reception at the church. The bride's table, centered with the three tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, was decorated with pink and white majestic daisies. Covering the table was a net cloth over white satin, the sides of which were caught up with small bouquets of flowers. Crystal candelabra were used on either side of the cake. Serving at the bridal table were Miss Mary Ann Dick, Sedalia; Miss Carol Clark and Miss Georgiana Nickols, both from Kansas City. Miss Margaret Eickhoff was in charge of the guest book.

Immediately following the reception, the couple left for a wedding trip to Lake Taneycomo. For traveling the bride chose a navy blue dress with blue and white accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Green entertained with a buffet supper on Saturday evening preceding the wedding rehearsal. The table was covered with a lace cloth and red roses were used as the centerpiece with white tapers. Miss Green wore a white dress trimmed with sequins. Members of the wedding party and their immediate family were guests.

The bride was graduated from Smith-Cotton High School with the class of 1951 and attended Drury College, Springfield. She is in training for an x-ray technician at Research Clinic, Kansas City. Mr. Barnds will be a senior at the Missouri School of Mines next fall majoring in electrical engineering.

Out of town guests for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Powell, Leawood, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Barnickel and son Ted, Mrs. Jennie Berglin, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Clark and son, Kansas City; Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Pearson, Gardner, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. Eric C. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace R. Johnson, Kansas City, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. George H. Rush, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ward, Raytown; Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Powell and son, Centralia; Mr. and Mrs. John Richardson and daughter, St. Louis; Miss Elinor Summers and Miss Sue Turrentine, Springfield; Mr. George Green and Mrs. Clarence Cerney, Coffeyville, Kan.; Miss Dean Darrant, Miss Lorene Telford, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Stokes, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Neff and daughters and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Neff, Kansas City; Mr and Mrs. Stewart J. Ridenour, of Independence.

Nagging Backache Sleepless Nights

Often Due to Kidney Slow-down

When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, headaches, dizziness and loss of pep and energy. Don't suffer restless nights with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exertion or exposure to cold. Russians Top US Players In Chess

NEW YORK (AP)—Russia's vaunted chess team, as expected, has conquered the best players America could muster.

The Russians clinched their victory last night in the fourth and final round of a 32-game tournament that stretched over eight days.

The score stood at 18½ to 9½ for the visitors, playing here for the first time. Four more games will be completed today, but they can't change the result.

Samuel Reshevsky, America's only player of grand master rank, broke even against Vassily Smyslov, head man on the Russian squad. Tehy drew all four of their games.

And 23-year-old Larry Evans, youngest U. S. player, came out ahead of Mark Taimonov. Evans won two of his games, lost one and drew one, to outscore Taimonov 2½ to 1½.

A win scores a point, a draw a half point. Each player played the same man four times.

Evans won last night with a strong attack on the King's side. "It was the best game I have played so far," he said happily. Prolonged applause greeted the announcement that Taimonov had resigned in defeat.

The No. 2 Russian, David Bronstein, swept all four of his games against Arnold Denker and alternate Arthur Dake. The Soviet's third-ranking man, Paul Keres, won three and seemed on his way to a fourth against Max Pavey when time ran out and it was adjourned to this afternoon.

In other results last night Russian Tigran Petrosyan defeated Arthur Bisguier and American Robert Byrne drew his game with Alexander Kotov.

Byrne's younger brother, Donald, 24, still was struggling against Yuri Auerbach, champion of Russia, when the five-hour session ended. Byrne won two of his previous games and lost one.

The matches, played at the Hotel Roosevelt, drew large crowds.

Cat Mothers Pups

POTTSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — When Poochie, a thoroughbred beagle, walked out on her eight puppies a day and a half after they were born, Sandy took over. Sandy, a three-year-old part Persian cat owned by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gauger, has had five litters of stillborn kittens, and seemed delighted to play the role of mother.

State Funds For King Bill Roads In Area

State funds totaling $677,845.50 will be available for aid in maintaining county aid roads during the fiscal year beginning July 1, the State Highway Commission has announced. A total of 13,556.91 miles of such roads have been designated as eligible to receive this money.

The allocation to counties was made by the State Auditor for use if they choose to participate in the maintenance phase of the county aid program, which was put into operation last September. The money comes from general revenue funds appropriated by the 67th General Assembly to assist counties in meeting their local road maintenance problems.

Counties in this area and the amounts they are receiving are: Benton, 102.14 miles, $5,107 Henry, 289.89. miles, $14,492.50; Johnson, 351.96 miles, $17,598; Lafayette, 378.95 miles, $18,947.50; Pettis, 189.15 miles, $9,457.50; Saline, 148.94 miles, $7,442.50; Boone, 173.48 miles, $8,674; Camden, 37 miles, $1,850; Cole, 66.27 miles, $3,313.50; Cooper, 102.45 miles, $5,122.50; Howard, 73.82 miles, $3,691; Miller, 57.60 miles, $2,880; Moniteau, 33.24 miles, $1,662; Morgan, 84.30 miles, $4,215.

The individual counties may obtain up to $50 per mile for maintenance purposes, provided they put up at least an equal amount. The law provbides the money can be spent only on previously improved county aid roads, and only for the application of additional surface materials. It cannot be used for other routine maintenance activities, such as blading, ditching, reshaping, etc.

The State Highway Commission, by law, is charged with supervising the county aid road program. All applications for funds for maintenance aid must be filed through county courts of the individual counties. However, the matching local funds may come from any source.

If a county does not use all the money allocated to it for maintenance within the designated period, the unused portion reverts to the county aid road fund.

Since the maintenance aid program got under way last September the Commission has approved applications totaling $317,772.74 for 6,624.96 miles of roads in 80 counties. To date 29 of these counties have completed work on 2,207.14 miles of those roads at a cost of $107,632.25.

Report GI 'Swindle' On Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, Rep. Short (R-Mo), said today that American taxpayers have been swindled out of millions of dollars by servicemen fraudently claiming benefits for parents.

Disclosing what he said were early findings in a broad Army investigation, Short told offenders "to take cover because the full force of justice is coming their way."

The benefits under scrutiny, known as secondary allotments, are paid to parents of armed services enlisted personnel upon affidavit by servicemen and parent that the serviceman pays more than one-half of the parent's support. Part of the money comes from the serviceman's pay check and part from the federal treasury. The government's share ranges from $51.30 to $96.90 a month.

Short's statement went into the Congressional Record in what he called a report on "Project Big," an investigation first instituted 18 months ago in Puerto Rico. As a result of what was found in the Puerto Rican cases, he said, the inquiry was broadened to cover claims in the entire United States.

Initial findings, Short said, "were both startling and disturbing" and indicated that about 30 per cent of secondary allotments involving Army personnel were improper or fraudulent. He gave this breakdown:

The complete Army investigation in Puerto Rico resulted in rejection of 45 per cent out of a total of 19,175 cases in which allotments were being paid.

In the United States alone, the Army investigated 28,250 cases and rejected 7,765.

Navy rejections totaled 15.9 per cent of cases investigated, Marine Corps 10 per cent, and Air Force 9 per cent, with the investigations not yet completed.

Guests were: James T. Denny, Houston, Tex., with A. H. Wilks; Roy Hemphill, Denver, Colo., with his brother, R. C. Hemphill, and Kiwanian Don Middleton, Wichita, Kan., with Dr. Reinhold Fischer.

Talbott May Announce Academy Site Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. Walter Kohler of Wisconsin said today after a 40-minute conference with Secretary of the Air Force Talbott that there is a good chance the secretary will announce later in the day the site for the new Air Force Academy.

Talbott has under consideration three possible sites: Lake Geneva, Wis.; Colorado Springs, Colo.; and Alton, Ill.

Kohler said Talbott praised all three locations but gave no hint of any kind as to which site he will select.

Choice of the Air Academy site is up to Talbott. He is empowered to choose among the top three recommendations of a special board which sifted through hundreds of applications before making its proposals.

Thieves Crack Army Safes In Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — A gang of crooks is cracking U.S. Army safes in Germany at the rate of four a month and since last August has netted possibly $75,000, the Overseas Weekly said today.

"In nearly all cases," the weekly said, "the safes cracked were on Army property behind normal security precautions, including fences and armed guards. In three cases the thieves reportedly carted away the whole safe, taking it out of the military compounds past sentries."

Pretty Brunette Is 1945 Girls' State Governor

FULTON, (AP) — A pretty green-eyed brunette is the 1954 Missouri girls State governor.

Miss Edna Mae Donald, daughter of D. E. Shea, St. Joseph, the Nationalist party candidate, won the title in her election campaign against Miss Joyce Pennington.

Miss MacDonald will be the guest of honor tonight at a reception being given by the Fulton auxiliary of the American Legion. She will take the oath of office before Judge Laurance Hyde of the Missouri Supreme Court.

Norma Jean Broughton, Milo, Lt. governor; Sue Thompson, Lebanon attorney general; Betty Lucas, St. Louis, secretary of state; Carol Daughterty, Rock Port, state treasurer; Pat Allison, Jefferson City, state auditor.

Justices of the Supreme Court Jan Medcalf, Joplin; Bety Sue Howard, Chillicothe; Martha Bennett, Independence; Patricia Dalton, St. Louis; Mary Ellen Weber, Bonne Terre; and tied Barbara Bell and Carolyn Hoffman, both of St. Louis.

The state campaign this year lacked a drive by the big city girls, who failed to capture at least one of the two top offices for the first time in memory of the girls state staff.

Tomorrow the girls will go to Jefferson City to take their respective places in the Capitol. Saturday will be devoted to the full operation of girls state on all political levels — city, county and state.

Sedalians Go To National BPW Meeting

The convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs will be held in St. Louis starting Sunday, June 27, and will continue through Friday, July 2.

Thirty-five years ago the first convention was held in St. Louis with about 100 women present and this year the convention is coming back with between 4,000 and 6,000 delegates and members expected to attend.

The opening session Sunday evening will be a pageant at Keil auditorium depicting the progress made by women of the federation during the 35 years.

Miss Hazel Palmer and Miss Rose Leibbrand left Thursday. Miss Palmer, who is second vice-president of the national federation, to attend the executive committee meeting to be held prior to the convention, and Miss Leibbrand to set up the Missouri Hostess Center of which she will be in charge.

Miss Leibbrand will also be a special hostess at the national board dinner which will be held at Park Plaza Hotel on Saturday night for all national committee members and state presidents. This is an honor as only presidents of Missouri clubs have been asked to serve as hostesses and Miss Leibbrand is not a president.

Mrs. J. F. Schumacher, president of the Sedalia club, and Mrs. Everett White, director of District IV, will be delegates from the Sedalia Business and Professional Women's Club and Miss Palmer will be an ex-officio voting delegate.

A large number of members of the Sedalia club expect to attend the convention.

Brownell Is Snubbed For Taking Stand In School Segregation

ALBANY, Ga. (AP) — Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook said today U.S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell would not be invited to speak at the national convention of attorneys general because of his action in the school segregation case.

The Justice Department, under direction of Brownell, presented the government's case to the Supreme Court, calling for an end to school segregation. The court ruled that segregation must go.

Cook, in a Kiwanis club speech last night, said Brownell "is the attorney general for all the people yet he has acted against the wishes of constituted states" in the segregation case.

While Brownell will not be invited to speak, he will be asked to attend the convention, to be held in Biloxi, Miss., in December, Cook said.

Cramps Cause Youth To Drown In Pool

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Billy Gene Medlock, 16, of suburban Belridge, drowned last night while swimming, apparently after suffering an attack of cramps.

The drowning occurred in a pool of water left by a Missouri River flood near Pattonville several years ago.

A neighbor told authorities the youth ate a big supper, then raced around a while before jumping into the water and trying to swim across the 50-foot pond.

Troy Wall, 30, who was swimming nearby, tried to grab young Medlock when his arms went up as though he were in trouble, but twice the boy slipped away, fighting.

The body was recovered.

Gypsies Pray For Ill Queen At Hospital

DALLAS (AP)—A gypsy matriarch lay in the hospital, and out on the lawn her dark-skinned tribe camped, waiting and praying.

Sometimes the clansmen laughed aloud as their children darted squealing among the trees. Mostly they talked softly, in small clusters, and changed from English to a rapid flow of Gypsy dialect when a stranger came near.

They kept watch over Mrs. Rosie Evans, 75, of Fort Worth, injured in a car wreck.

"She is our elder, the leader of our tribe," said Joe Evans, a Fort Worth coppersmith. "That is why we wait."

Evans, a slim, middle-aged man whose brown mustache almost matches his skin, is the oldest of the gypsy leader's seven sons. If she should die he would become the tribal head.

"No, of course I won't be the 'King of the Gypsies'," he said. That's foolishness. There are many gypsy tribes, and there is no 'King' or 'Queen'. That's just something people like to say about gypsies.

"But she is our mother—and she is a Queen to us."

Mrs. Evans suffered from shock, a broken ankle and foot, an injured hip and deep cuts across one knee and her forehead. She was hurt in a wreck near here Sunday night.

The tribe began gathering the next day.

There were about 30 gypsies keeping watch at Methodist Hospital—only part of Mrs. Evans' tribe. Besides the seven sons, she has four daughters, 30 grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren, plus nieces and nephews.

"Sure, we're gypsies," Evans said. "My mother is a Cherokee Indian and my father was a Serbian, born in Chicago. My great grandfather came from the old country.

"But we've put a stop to that 'roaming gypsies' stuff. We have good homes and regular jobs. We live like anybody else.

"I'll tell you something, though—there'll always be gypsies, always.

"And I'll tell you why," he said, glancing down and smiling.

"We're proud of being gypsies. That's why."

Charlotte Says She Will Take Night Club Job to Pay Doctors

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Charlotte McLeod, 28-year-old brunette transformed from a man to a woman by surgery, hopes to pay off doctors by working as a night club entertainer, then get married.

She said in an interview yesterday she doesn't look forward to night club work, but thinks it necessary to pay bills.

"Then," she said, "I'll retire from the public eye as soon as I can."

She said she is looking forward to married life and a home of her own.

Asked about romantic interests, she said she had none but "give me time. After all, I'm only a year old as a woman."

She said she is happy now after her operation in Denmark, which she said changed her from a "sexual cripple" to a normal woman. She said she is writing a book on her experiences and hopes it will point out how badly sexual cripples need help.

No Clearance For McCarthy Investigator

NEW YORK (AP) —Newspapers reported today that Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) has assigned Donald Surine to a preliminary investigation of the Central Intelligence Agency, and they said Surine does not have federal security clearance.

Surine told a reporter in Washington a week ago that he had security clearance.

Asked about the story that he had been assigned by McCarthy to investigate the CIA, Surine said in Washington: "I don't know anything about it." He declined to be drawn into a discussion.

Washington dispatches to the New York Times and New York Herald Tribune attributed the assignment and reported lack of security clearance of Surine to informed sources.

The Times, calling Surine "one of Sen. McCarthy's most controversial investigators," said he was "dropped from the rolls" of the FBI in 1950. The story added:

"A security clearance for him from the Defense Department, requested about a year ago by the (McCarthy) Senate Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations, has not yet been forthcoming.

"Word of Mr. Surine's assignment to the investigation of the CIA coincided with an inquiry by the subcommittee into the circumstances of his not being cleared to receive classified information.

"Past and present employes of the highly sensitive and supersecret CIA have reported that they have been approached in the last few months by Mr. Surine for information. Sen. McCarthy has broadcast an appeal to federal workers to provide him with information and documents even though the data are classified 'secret.'

"Mr. Surine's assignment may stir new controversy within the investigating subcommittee, where demands for his removal already are pending. . . "

The Herald Tribune said Surine has been engaged in an investigation of the CIA "for some time" and added that the subcommittee "is now looking into the circumstances under which Mr. Surine's clearance to handle classified documents has been held up by the Defense Department."

"It was understood," the Herald Tribune story continued, "that Mr. Surine's inquiries had reached the point where he had talked with CIA employes, but he was reported not to have made any official contacts with the super-secret worldwide intelligence agency."

McCarthy has charged Communist infiltration into the CIA, and has said it might well be the subject of a full-scale investigation by his subcommittee.

Allen W. Dulles, CIA director and brother of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, has called the charge "false."

A-Weapons Could Stop Red Assault

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-NY) said today tactical atomic weapons may confront Russia "with an operational dilemma" that could bar any drive across Europe.

Cole, chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, also called for an immediate "peacetime atomic crusade" by the United States and her allies—without Russia if she continued to balk—to develop civilian uses of atomic energy.

His remarks were in a speech prepared for an international conference on nuclear engineering sponsored by the American Institute of Chemical Engineers. Cole was unable to be present and he arranged for the speech to be read by Kenneth Matthews, a member of the Atomic Energy Committee staff.

"The best military minds tell me," Cole said, "that nuclear weapons can put the defense of Western Europe in an entirely new and more hopeful light.

"The conventional NATO (North Atlantic Treaty Organization) defenses are already of such strength that the Soviets could not penetrate them without first massing their ground forces in preparation for a breakthrough.

"But once the legions of the Red army are so concentrated they expose themselves to the mortal peril of counterattack by nuclear weapons.

Cole said current planning "proceeds on the conviction that tactical nuclear weapons, in conjunction with conventional forces, can provide us with such a measure of deterring power that the Soviets will never undertake a drive to the English Channel."

This depends, he added, upon relaxing the present law to give European allies the information they need "concerning the effects and tactical employment of atomic weapons." The committee is considering a bill providing this authorization.

Sure Is Dry

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — The mail brought Gov. Edward F. Arn a reminder of the drought. A letter from a friend, C. C. Evans of Russell, Kan., bore notations that the stamp was affixed and the back flap closed with pins because "no moisture is available" to seal them.

Hal Boyle's Column—

Clancy In 16,200 Visits To Statue, Never Inside

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Capt. George Clancy has made 16,200 visits to the Statue of Liberty—and never yet been inside it.

For six years he has piloted a ferry boat from the Battery to Bedloe's Island, bringing literally millions of visitors to America's greatest national shrine. The round trip is only about 3 miles, but in those years Clancy has journeyed almost twice the distance around the earth.

Today gave Clancy the proudest moment in his 46 years of living. He was at the helm of the "Miss Liberty," a new 460-ton excursion steamer, as she made her maiden trip through New York harbor. The three-deck vessel, which will carry 750 passengers, was added to its fleet by the Circle Line company because of the growing popularity of the Statue of Liberty as a tourist mecca.

Francis J. Barry, general manager of the Circle Line, said the $400,000 "Miss Liberty" is the first excursion steamer of its type designed and built in the United States in the last 25 years.

"I can't see how they could improve on her," said Clancy, patting the wheel as if it were a living thing.

Clancy, a chipper little blue-eyed skipper (5-feet-5, weight 140), may be harbor-bound now, but he has quite a career to look back on. He was born in Fitchburg, Mass., and went to sea at 16.

"I've had 11 years of deep water experience," he recalled. "I've been around the world three times, and hit about every country on the globe. I've sailed under four flags—American, Norwegian, British and Honduran."

Clancy served with the Army Transport Service during the war. He also spent four years traveling with the Ringling circus as a side-show magician and animal trainer.

"I had 14 bears," he remarked, and let the matter drop, as if that alone were enough to explain why he returned to the sea.

"Now I'm all settled down and married and get home at nights," he said. Clancy met and wooed his wife—she's the daughter of the superintendent of the Statue of Liberty national monument—while she was commuting to and from Manhattan on his vessel.

Clancy has ferried all types of people out to the statue—"from children and senators and governors and movie stars, from Faye Emerson to UN officials.

"But immigrants seem to get the biggest thrill," he said. "Many saw the statue from the deck of a ship when they first came to this country years ago, and they have a desire to see what it looks like real close. Sometimes they cry. It stirs up old memories."

Captain Clancy says his nine daily trips never get monotonous, and he doesn't feel rut-bound.

"You're too busy," he said. "This is the busiest harbor in the world, and you're crossing all the big liners going in and out. You don't have time to think of anything else."

No impish Irish impulse to bypass the Statue of Liberty and chug his boatload of sightseers on down to Florida ever tempts the stout stern mind of Clancy. Or if it does, he won't admit it.

"Anyway," he said firmly, "I've already seen Florida."

Two Accused Of Swindling Retired Farmer

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa (AP)—Otto H. Burns, 57, Kansas City, and William Lacey, 65, Springfield, Ill., have been accused here of attempting to swindle a retired farmer of $18,000 in a phony stud poker game.

They were arrested June 11 while waiting for a local bank to open. James Oamek, 79, Council Bluffs, who was with them, testified as their preliminary hearing that he was to draw $18,000 from the bank to help the two men cover a hand of stud poker against a bet of $76,000 made by a fourth man.

Oamek said he met the pair and a supposedly "wealthy oil man" at Excelsior Springs, Mo.

On a trip to Lexington, Mo., he said Lacey found a billfold containing $40, a deck of cards, but no identification.

Oamek said a poker game developed over the money and he was given what he thought was a "cinch" hand. He said Burns and Lacey wanted to back the hand against a bet of $76,000 made by the "wealthy oil man." The $18,000 was to be Oamek's share of the bet.

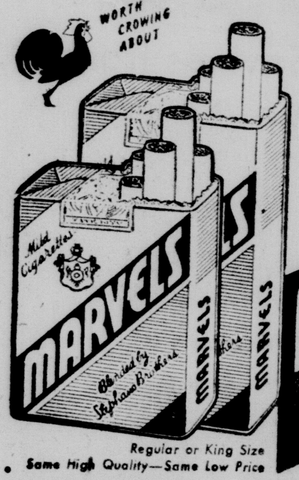

Desk Sgt. John Schweer testified a thick roll of bogus money was found on Burns and Lacey when they were searched at the police station.

Number of Unwed Mothers Increases, Many Teenagers

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The number of unwed mothers is increasing—especially among teen-agers or upper class girls—and a "sex hysteria" in American society is partly to blame, a physician said yesterday.

Many influences are at work producing "an emotional shambles which fosters many of the deviations and denatured biological trends which are common among our young folks," Dr. Goodrich C. Schauffler of Portland, Ore., told the American Medical Assn.

He urged physicians to "go beyond the ordinary call" of duty to help these girls.

He said he had seen "too many impressively happy endings" to think these matters cannot be "decently handled—many of them by the physician."

Having their babies may "turn out to be a maturing experience—often a distinct psychological advantage as compared to an abortion."

Dr. Schauffler said there were 88,000 illegitimate live births in 1938, and 142,000 in 1950. Nearly half these mothers in 1950 were under 20, and 32,000 were girls under 17.

"A much higher percentage of unmarried mothers nowadays comes from comparatively privileged groups — high school students, college students, young women with good jobs, as compared with the 'poor working girl' or 'penniless domestic' of the beginning of the century."

Modern customs which "precipitate precocious sex activity of young people" are one cause, Dr. Schauffler said.

Young people are more aware of sex, "stimulated and maintained by the sex hysteria which is a calculated instrument of modern journalism and so-called entertainment trends.

"Beyond this, there are loose practices, bad examples and lack of supervision in parental and home influences; liquor, narcotics, automobiles, auto courts, and finally, gang influences which combine the above elements and tend, in certain groups, almost to enforce premarital sex practices."

Jenkins Considers Running for Senator In Tennessee Race

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Ray Jenkins says the nationwide publicity given the McCarthy-Army hearings, of which he was special counsel, has made him look favorably on an offer of running for the Republican nomination in Tennessee for the Senate.

But Jenkins said he has not yet made up his mind. Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) is seeking reelection.

Jenkins went to his farm in neighboring Loudon County today to begin work on boiling down the 80,000 pages of testimony into a few hundred pages.

Jenkins flew in yesterday from Chicago.

Six out of every 10 people in the world live on farms.

Attacks Bill To Ban Ads On Alcohol

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Editorial Assn. said today a bill to ban interstate advertising of alcoholic beverages smacks of censorship and would set "a deadly precedent."

William L. Daley, Washington representative of the association's legislative committee, called the measure "a bold effort to prevent people fro mutilizing advertising in selling lawfully manufactured commodities."

"If advertising is to be denied to one group of citizens—the alcoholic beverage industry—then why not to other industries or to other citizens, such as unions or certain political candidates or others?" he asked in a statement prepared for a Senate Commerce subcommittee hearing.

Daley said the editorial association, with a membership of some 6,000 daily and weekly newspaper publishers and editors, was concerned that the bill might be "motivated by a covert bias as to what the public may be permitted to read or see in various communications media."

"Censorship could be indirectly achieved by devious means," he added.

Daley called the bill unnecessary, saying the courts have held that newspapers are private business ventures and are free to reject such advertising as they wish.

In urging rejection of the legislation, Daley said "it is a backdoor approach to a broader issue and sets a deadly precedent for suppression of advertising and selling other lawful products."

The House Commerce Committee recently held hearings on a similar measure but has taken no action.

Supporters of the legislation have contended that advertising of beer and liquor has encouraged increased consumption, especially by young people.

Opponents have called the bill an attempt by "drys" to bring about a return of prohibition.

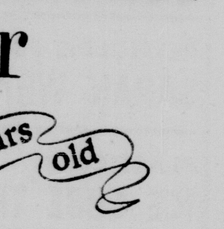

State Civil Defense Director McDaniel Dies In Hotel Room

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — State Civil Defense Director Arthur S. McDaniel died of a heart attack in his hotel room here last night.

McDaniel, who was appointed state civil defense director March 31, 1953 by Gov. Phil Donnelly, yesterday visited Dr. John W. McHaney for a checkup because of chest pains he had suffered for several months.

Arrangements were being made for an electric cardiograph test today but he died before the test could be made.

Smith Runs For Lions Club Dist. Governor

The Sedalia Lions Club meeting was held Wednesday at the Bothwell Hotel at which time Dr. David Robinson, president-elect, gave a report on the District 26-C convention held at the Boonville Rod and Gun Club last Sunday.

Dr. Robinson announced the new deputy district governor of Region Two, of which Sedalia is a part, is Martin Berning, Carrollton, who served as zone chairman in 1953-54. Berning will succeed E. B. Smith, Sedalia.

He also announced that Smith, who is past-president of the Sedalia club, was announced as a candidate for district governor of District 26-C. The new governor will be elected at the state convention to be held in Springfield next May.

Sedalians who attended the district convention were: D. Kelly Scruton, president, and Mrs. Scruton, President-elect Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Huntington, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Haller, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Seaberg, Harry Goldberg, Jack Delph and Ray Brueckner.

Carl F. Urban was program chairman for the day. The meeting was presided over by D. Kelly Scruton, president.

Guests were Richard Goodheart, a new member introduced by Abe Silverman, and G. W. Garner, a visiting Lion from Excelsior Springs.

Wednesday night the Lions held a board of directors meeting for members of the old and new boards at the home of Dr. David Robinson, 1723 West 11th.

St. Louis Suspends Two Police Officers For False Reports

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Board of Police Commissioners yesterday suspended two officers charged with neglect of duty and making a false report of a "shooting" involving frequent traffic violator Robert H. (Hot Rod) Moore.

The officers are Sgt. John Mays and Cpl. Lester Ficke.

A report by Capt. Elias Hoagland gave the following version:

Moore and John N. Connor exchanged "shots" in front of a west-end tavern using cap pistols. Each doubled up pretending to be shot and tavern customers called police.

The officers who investigated were told by Moore it was a joke. No report was made immediately and later when Mays and Ficke were asked about the case they said only fireworks were involved.

Firing cap pistols is illegal in the city.

Polio Cases Increase Throughout Nation

WASHINGTON (AP)—New cases of polio reported over the nation last week totaled 421, a 30 per cent increase over those in the week ended June 12, the Public Health Service said today.

The total was also 5 per cent greater than the 400 listed in the comparable week last year.

Since Jan. 1 there have been 3,644 cases, compared with 3,519 in the similar 1953 period, and since the "disease year" started about April 1 there have been 2,092 cases, compared with 1,938 last year.

Declines to Estimate How Much Longer HST Must Stay In Hospital

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Harry S. Truman continued to show progress in recovering from an emergency operation but his doctor declined to estimate how much longer the 70-year-old former President will remain in the hospital.

Dr. Wallace Graham said last night that normally a post-operative patient would be in the hospital 10 days. Truman's gall bladder and appendix were removed last Sunday.

Graham said his patient "just couldn't be doing any better."

Truman was able to walk about his room at Research Hospital.

Mrs. Truman spent most of the day with her husband and visited him again in the evening.

DES MOINES (AP)—A few hardy souls, like Mrs. Twila Tromblee and four members of her family, are riding out the Des Moines flood even though water stands two feet deep in the first floor of their homes.

With her 72-year-old mother, her uncle, son, saudhter-in-law and grandchild, Mrs. Tromblee said "We'll stick it out right here."

"We just pretend we're having a picnic," said Mrs. Tromblee. "We're all right."

Officials don't endorse the practice. Often it means an emergency evacuation by boat.

Foreign Aid Program May Face Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some Republican congressmen today foresaw heavy sailing ahead for President Eisenhower's 3½ billion dollar foreign aid program despite its approval virtually intact by the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

The committee scissored only seven million dollars from administration requests in approving yesterday a $3,470,608,000 ceiling for global assistance during the year begirning July 1.

Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio), a ranking member, termed the committee action a "vote of confidence in the President." He added this is the first time in his 16 years' congressional service that a committee has avoided heavy slashes in foreign aid.

The measure now goes to the House floor, probably Monday, and Vorys predicted that several members, including some committeemen, would try to cut it. The Senate has not yet acted.

Appropriations will be voted later to carry out the authorized program. Rep. Ford (R-Mich), a member of the Appropriations Committee, predicted that group would make "some cuts" when it starts considering the actual money bill in July.

The President, in a special message to Congress yesterday, called the program "essential" and said that, in the face of world tension, any cuts in it "would be unjustified and unsafe."

A few hours later the House Foreign Policy Committee announced that it had approved untouched these major items:

1. Global military assistance totaling $1,778,300,000.
2. Military - supporting aid to Southeast Asia and the Western Pacific, 945 million dollars. This includes authority to use anywhere in Southeast Asia 800 million earmarked for Indochina.
3. Global defense support, backing up the military buildup, $223,280,000.
4. Development assistance and point four aid to underdeveloped areas, 224 million, including 85 million for India.
5. Korean rehabilitation, $241,300,000, including the American share of United Nations programs.

Saw Fish?

CHESTER, Calif. (AP) — Workmen at a sawmill cut into a huge rotted log and out poured about 1,500 live fish from 1 to 8 inches long. The first probably trapped inside the log while it floated in the mill pond, sawmill men said.

Congress Hightlights

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate may vote on a Democratic-sponsored move to approve President Eisenhower's proposal to extend the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act for three years and to give him new tariff-cutting powers.

Twenty-two Democrats and Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) are backing this basic Eisenhower trade proposal as a substitute for a House-passed bill to extend the trade act for only one year in its present form. A final vote on passage also is possible before the day is out.

Republican Senate leaders, opposing the substitute, pass the word that its adoption probably would kill the 20-year-old trade program. They argue key GOP House leaders would not accept it.

FARM—The Senate Agriculture Committee comes up to a showdown vote on the politically controversial issue of flexible farm price supports vs. high rigid props.

Sen. Young (R-ND) predicts the committee will reject the Eisenhower administration program pegged to flexible supports and recommend instead another year of rigid props for farm prices.

The House Agriculture Committee, already on record 21-8 in favor of the present system of high level supports, has virtually finished drafting general farm legislation and is about ready to send its bill to the House for debate.

FOREIGN AID — Some Republican congressmen foresee rough going for Eisenhower's 3½ billion dollar foreign aid program even though the House Foreign Affairs Committee has given it a good start through Congress by approving it virtually intact.

SOCIAL SECURITY — Secretary of Welfare Hobby goes before the Senate Finance Committee to present the case for the administration's plan for expansion of the social security program.

The average U. S. worker is absent 7½ days a year because of temporary illness.

Missouri Synod Asks Unification of All Presbyterian Churches

KANSAS CITY (AP) — An open letter asking unification of all Presbyterian churches is being sent out by the Missouri Synod of the Presbyterian Church of the United States.

"Our plea," the letter says in part, "is that you make us one great fellowship throughout this whole wide nation."

A measure officially affirming the unification of the Presbyterian Church of the U. S. A., the Presbyterian Church U. S., and the United Presbyterian Church has been passed by the general assemblies of these groups and is now before the presbyteries and synods for adoption.

The Missouri synods of the Presbyterian Church U. S. A. and the Presbyterian Church U. S. finished a joint three-day conference at Park College yesterday.

St. Louis Accepts Steam Locomotive

ST. LOUIS (AP) —St. Louis has accepted an offer from the Frisco Railroad of a retired steam locomotive, complete with bell and whistle.

It'll be set up in one of the city's parks.

"The locomotive will be strictly a plaything — and firmly anchored I hope," said Mrs. Edward G. Brungard, director of public welfare for the city.

Six other cities — Tulsa, Birmingham, Memphis, Springfield, Mo., Kansas City and Amory, Miss.—have similar locomotives in parks.

Russians Shun Ban on Using Nuclear Arms

LONDON (AP)—The Western powers announced today they have proposed an immediate ban on use of nuclear weapons, except in defense against aggression, and a freeze on military manpower and arms expenditures. The Russians turned it down.

The new Western plan for step-by-step disarmament was disclosed following the windup of 20 fruitless meetings here of the United Nations subcommittee on disarmament. It called for gradual progress toward abolition of nuclear weapons with effective enforcement safeguards on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

The Western powers again rejected Russian disamament proposals which, they said, allowed for no adequate means of enforcement behind the Iron Curtain. U.S. delegate Morehead Patterson said: "We might summarize these Soviet proposals in six words:

" 'Ban the bomb, trust the Russians.' "

The Western plan was advanced by Britain and France, with the support of the United States and Canada. These four nations, plus Russia, make up the subcommittee.

These were the six points of the new Western plan:

1. An immediate ban on the use of nuclear weapons except in defense against aggression.
2. Freezing of the amount of manpower and money spent on all armaments.
3. International agreement on how far to reduce conventional armament.
4. Half of this agreed reduction to be effected immediately, followed by a ban on the production of nuclear weapons.
5. Then conventional arms to be cut down fully to the level agreed upon.
6. Existing stockpiles of atom bombs and other nuclear weapons then to be destroyed.

Doctor Orders Marilyn Monroe to Take Rest

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A three-day rest in bed has been ordered for Marilyn Monroe, who collapsed three times since the start of her current picture four weeks ago.

Dr. S. R. Kennamer sent her home yesterday after her latest collapse. He said she was run down as a result of a flu attack 10 days ago, but probably would be able to resume her work Saturday at Twentieth Century-Fox Studios.

Chicks Are Hatched From Discarded Eggs

STANDISH, Maine (AP)—A batch of eggs discarded at the town dump hatched out 41 chicks after baking in hot sunshine, caretaker Bert Chaplin reported.

Chaplin said last night the chicks appear to be flourishing despite their unceremonious entry into the world.

Final Arguments Begin In St. Louis Trial Of Lawrence Callanan

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Final arguments began today in the trial of Lawrence Callanan and four other AFL leaders accused of labor racketeering.

The case probably will go to the federal jury of 10 men and 2 women tomorrow.

Besides Callanan, head of the steamfitters union here, the defendants were Carl J. Bianchi of the hoisting engineers, R. M. Secor and William M. Poster of the building laborers and L. A. Thimpson, former teamsters union business agent.

Only Callanan and Secor testified in their defense and both denied getting any part of an alleged $28,000 payoff from Oscar R. Burden, Tulsa, Okla., contractor who had testified he made such a payment to bring about peace on a pipeline project in Missouri.

Secor denied government testimony that he was a director of the Washington Construction Equipment Co. of Washington, Mo. which the prosecution contends was a dummy firm set up to collect extortion money in the form of rentals on equipment it never furnished to contractors. Secor did say he was a stockholder of the firm.

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) —Three accidents in three days put Toll Dickerson in the hospital.

Delaware Woman Wins Chicken Cooking Title

GEORGETOWN, Del. (AP)—A 43-year-old housewife and mother of three today wore the crown of National Chicken Cooking Queen.

Mrs. Steven J. Barczewski, who lives on a 240-acre farm near Newark, Del., won the title, $500 and other prizes yesterday at the 7th annual Delmarva Chicken Festival.

Her recipe: Broiled chicken basted with white wine and crab apple jelly and served with tea biscuits. It won over 99 other entries.

Escapees Are Caught After Traffic Error

ORANGE, Va. (AP)—When the approaching car didn't dim its lights as required by state law, State Trooper James W. Chambers turned around and overtook the vehicle.

Two youths in the car, Jackson Libert, 18, and Aubrey Caldwell, 21, both of Pulaski, turned out to be escapees from a state prison camp. The car had been stolen several hours earlier in Roanoke.

Telephone Call Solves 42-Year Kidnap Secret

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—A kidnap mystery dating back 42 years apparently was solved today by a telephone call from the victim now living in West Virginia.

Robert Thompson was only three years old when his father took him from the home of his mother here in 1912, a short time after his parents were divorced, and custody of their son given to the mother.

He was the object of a nation-wide search at the time, but no trace of the child or his father ever was found.

The mystery was broken last night when Springfield police received a telephone call from a man who identified himself as Robert Wilson Pitman, 45, of Japonica Land, Woodrum Park, Charleston, W. Va.

"Pitman" told police that his father, whom he had known as "Wilson Ambrose Pitman" died recently, and that he learned of his true name and past history from newspaper clippings and other papers he found in his father's effects.

The West Virginia man reported that his father assumed the name of Pitman right after the abduction, and that until his father died, he thought that was his real name.

He telephoned police to ask them if his mother, Mrs. Rose Ethel Mason Thompson still was living.

Police located an aunt, Mrs. Ruth Rawson, who said that the kidnaped boy's mother, now Mrs. Rose Tracy, of Jericho Center, Vt., is in a hospital at Burlington, Vt., following an eye operation.

Police said the West Virginia man said he will come here and go to Burlington to see the mother he never knew.

He is married and the father of two children, police said.

Paint Fire Causes Smoky Excitement

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A pile of old paint drums, some with a little paint still inside, burned in a short but spectacular fire on the near downtown riverfront late yesterday.

A tall column of smoke attracted several hundred spectators during the rush hour blaze. One fireman suffered a burned hand fighting the blaze.

Candid Ad On Farm Bring Several Calls

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — John Holmes, 31, placed this classified ad in the Hartford Courant:

"Ramshackle farm; for direct sale from owner (realtors just laugh!) at fancy price, forty acres of pin oaks and black snakes. Old world charm includes sagging floors, tortuous stairway and draughty fireplaces. Located in Higganum (ugh!), Conn. Dandy opportunity to toughen up wife and kiddies for future. If you think this ad is funny, wait until you see this farm. Telephone. If a hollow laugh answers, don't hang up — that will be the owner."

Holmes, a salesman who has been living on the 100-year-old farm for three years, said he had several calls last night from people who want to look the farm over.

Mrs. Priest Describes Women's Money Control

KANSAS CITY (AP) —Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, U.S. treasurer, speaking last night on the role of women in the world, said:

"American women control 80 per cent of the wealth, directly or indirectly, and 86 per cent of the purchases are made by women."

Mrs. Priest, whose signature appears on all paper money issued since January, 1953, then said that a senator once suggested that her signature be taken off the U.S. money and her picture put on.

"I told the senator," she said with a smile, "that we women don't care too much about not getting our pictures on money as long as we can get our hands on it."

Will Leave Fishhook Imbedded in Boy's Eye To Let Nature Assist

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The fishhook lodged next to Roman Trzcinski's right eyeball will be left undisturbed for a while to see if nature will help in getting it out.

The 12-year old boy's physician decided yesterday that the hook was too deeply imbedded in soft and delicate tissue in the eye socket next to the eyeball to be removed by a giant electromagnet at St. Luke's hospital.

The hook caught in Roman's eye Sunday when a fishing plug, cast by a friend, struck him in the face.

Doctors said the hook will be watched to see if it works out where it can be more easily removed.

Physicians said Roman is in no present danger of losing the sigh of the eye.

Tries Bait Catcher, Is Electrocuted

ST. LOUIS (AP) —Victor Zeman, 55-year-old mail carrier, was electrocuted yesterday while using a home-made electric rod device to gather fishing worms.

His wife found the body lying across the thin, three-foot rod in their back yard. The rod was connected to an electric outlet by an extension cord.

Zeman had planned to go fishing with their young daughter.

Mrs. Zeman said he frequently has used the rod to bring the worms to the surface of the ground by an electrical charge.

Electric generators on the battleship Missouri could supply a city of 20,000 people.

Jolly Gets Job When Braves Have It Tough

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

Depending on where you hail from, "jolly good" may sound like English slang or phoney Indian talk. But around the tribal councils of the Milwaukee Braves it means it's a good thing Jolly's good.

Dave Jolly is the Braves' "saver", the pitcher who gets the call when the going is the toughest. He has the special job of protecting leads in late inning or stopping the opposition while his own team still has a chance to win.

The lean righthander from Stony Point, N.C., has been delivering in brilliant style. He's in his second full term in the majors, after seven years' seasoning in the minors, and so far he has been in 23 games, more than a third of the Milwaukee total.

In 36 innings Jolly has given up only 23 hits and 4 earned runs for a sparkling earned run average of 1.000. His personal record shows four victories and two defeats. One of his most spectacular performances came yesterday in Milwaukee's 5-2 triumph over the fast moving New York Giants.

Jim (No-Hit) Wilson sailed into the last of the ninth with a three run edge en route to his fourth straight victory. But the Giants, who think they own the copyright on Frank Merriwell finishes, got rid of Wilson with successive singles by Monte Irvin and Don Mueller.

With the dangerous Willie Mays at bat, Joily strolled to the rescue. He worked the count to 2-2 on Mays, who had homered earlier, before hitting him in the back to fill the bases.

Then Jolly applied the pressure. Pinch hitter Hank Thompson lofted a short fly. Wes Westrum fouled out. And Bobby Hofman, who has hit three pinch hit home runs this season, popped up in front of the plate to end the threat.

Brooklyn took advantage of Milwaukee's success and cut the Giants' first place margin to a single game by beating Cincinnati 6-3. St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 7-1 as Harvey Haddix won his 12th game. Philadelphia whipped Chicago 5-3.

In the American League Cleveland tripped Philadelphia 5-2, Chicago outlasted Washington 8-6, New York defeated Detroit 9-4 and Baltimore broke its nine-game losing streak, shading Boston 8-7 in a 17-inning marathon that ran 4 hours 58 minutes, the longest game ever played in the American League and one minute short of the longest night game in major league history.

Four Boston runs in the ninth sent the game into overtime and the Orioles finally won in the 17th on a single, a fluke double, a walk and a successful dash for home by Jim Brideweser on a grounder in the infield. Boston executed the season's second triple play in the first inning.

T&C Softball Team Defeats Jeff City 10-6

The Town & Country girls' softball team journeyed to Jefferson City where they defeated the Sab-More girls' team 10-6

Kelly, playing first base for Town & Country, got two hits out of three times at bat and Dorothy Rayl, catcher, and Dick, second base, each had homers for the local team.

For Jefferson City, Toddleson got two home runs, being to the plate three times.

Betty Joe Appleman was the winning pitcher for Sedalia. She allowed one hit up to the seventh inning. The host team had three hits in the last inning. Bemboom was the losing hurler for Jefferson City.

The Jefferson City team is one of the top girls' teams in Missouri as they have defeated such experienced teams as Fulton and Springfield.

Minor Leagues To Play Friday Eve and Saturday

The Sedalia Little League minor leagues Saturday saw four trouncings.

In the first game of the day Adco ran over the Elks by a 10-5 score.

A one-team track meet came in the third game, as the Optimists ran over the Jaycees 17-2. In the last game of the day Rotary showed strength by defeating the Kiwanis 17-7.

According to George Thompson the Rotary, Adco and Optimists appeared to be the stronger teams.

Beginning next Saturday the playing schedule will undergo a change. There will be two twilight games on Friday and two Saturday morning games, and there will be no games played Saturday afternoon.

On Friday a new rule will go into effect, under which every team must play all its players.

There will also be some player trades negotiated. Edwin Jett, Jerry Rouchka, and Armstrong Allen will go to the Jaycees.

The Optimists will also receive new players. Clyde McKenzie, Bill Killon, Charles Rothganger, Edwin Dotson, C. W. Young, Harvey Woolridge, and Raymond Woolridge. These players are to play and practice with their teams and are to contact their managers for times of practice and play.

Haddix Says He's Not Hurt In Shutout Slip

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Harvey Haddix, St. Louis Cardinal southpaw who's leading the majors with 12 victories, said today he isn't disappointed because he lost his bid for a fourth consecutive shutout by an eyelash.

"I just want to win 'em all," Haddix explained after his sparkling 7-1 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates last night. "No, I'm not disappointed I didn't get another shutout. We won, didn't we? That's what all the Cardinals want, just to win."

Haddix allowed only five hits to the last place Pirates as he hurled his 10th consecutive victory. It was a particularly pleasing win for Haddix because his last defeat, his third of the season, was by the Pirates April 29. On that occasion the lowly Bucs nipped the Cards 4-3.

Haddix was rolling along in fine style last night, having given up only two hits until Dick Cole came up in the sixth. The Buc infielder fouled off a pitch, then sent a drive to rightfield that went for a triple. A moment later he scored on an infield out to mark the first run tallied against Haddix in 37 consecutive innings.

With Cole's hit went Haddix' chances of beating the record of 46 1-3 consecutive scoreless innings set by Carl Hubbell, ex-New York Giant pitcher. And the bingle kept Haddix from trying to tie the National League record of four consecutive shutouts held by several pitchers.

"I wasn't worried about that hit," Haddix said after the game. "After all, we had a 5-0 lead and my job is to win ball games, not to concentrate on shutouts. Of course, I don't like any runs scored against me — no pitcher does."

Haddix has beaten every team in the league. Pittsburgh has been his victim three times and he's won two apiece from Cincinnati, Milwaukee and Philadelphia.

Buhlig Pitches Jr. Legion Win Over Lebanon

Striking out 16 Lebanon batters, Kenneth Buhlig pitched the Post 16 Junior American Legion team to an 11 to 8 victory over the Lebanon Junior Legion team Wednesday night at Liberty Park Although the Lebanon boys outhit the Post 16 team, the Sedalia crew came through with hits when they were most needed.

Lebanon scored two in the first, two more in the second, one run in the sixth and three in the ninth.

Sedalia came back in the second with three runs, added one in the third, fourth and fifth innings and five in the sixth.

Bob Abney led the Sedalia team in hitting, getting two for two, both being doubles. Atkins doubled for Lebanon. Don Barbour did the receiving for Post 16.

Golf Fans Still Wonder How Furgol Managed to Win Open

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP) —"How in the world did he do it?" golf fans asked after Ed Furgol, with a withered left arm, won the National Open championship, the sport's greatest prize, at Baltusrol last week-end.

"It will force the re-writing of all golf instructional manuals," remarked one authority, recalling that one of the basic fundamentals of the highly-specialized golf swing is a straight left arm.

Because of a childhood accident, Furgol's left arm is bent at a near 45-degree angle and permanently locked at the elbow. It is ten inches shorter than his right.

Furgol, through perserverance, developed strength in his left hand and forearm. There wasn't much he could do about his arm above the elbow, which remained shrunken and not much bigger than a driver's shaft.

But Furgol's victory in the open, amazing as it was in view of the handicap, will not radically alter established concepts of the swing.

"The golf swing is a matter of whipping the club-head through the ball with the hands," Furgol said. "It is a tigerish lash which gives it distance."

"The left hand is the guiding hand. The right hand gives it the power, with proper bodily coordination. You have to give the ball a belt with the right hand."

Furgol is not a "freak" champion. This is proved by the fact he has had 1,000 rounds of golf with an average of 71.4 strokes per round.

He rates with the longest drivers in golf, his iron game is very sound and his putting, by his own admission, is the weakest link in his game. "He's not a "strong" putter.

A hint of Furgol's temperament and supreme confidence may be found in his answer to a question put to him after he had won the Open.

"Were you playing Hogan?" somebody asked.

"Heck, no," replied Furgol. "I was playing myself."

"You mean you never once were afraid Hogan might come up and catch you?"

"No, sir, I didn't give Hogan a second thought. He's human just like me, has two hands, two feet and two eyes. I knew he could be beat like anybody else—and I beat him."

Maytags Play KC Cab Co. Tonight At Liberty Park

The Sedalia Maytags will play the Todeman Cab Co. of Kansas City tonight at 8 o'clock on the Liberty Park diamond.

Thus far this season, the Maytags have an overall record of five wins and two losses, all the games being against good semi-pro baseball teams.

Shoemaker, a catcher on the Maytag team, is scheduled to be back in the lineup within a week's time.

Joe Imhauser will be on the mound against the Kansas City team in tonight's contest.

The general public's support for all Maytag games will be appreciated.

Belgian Scores Upset

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Unseeded Philippe Washer of Belgium scored the first major upset in the four-day old Wimbledon tournament today by defeating Art Larsen, former U.S. champion from San Leandro, Calif., 10-12, 7-5, 6-2, 9-7.

The sixth-seeded Larsen's defeat came after Tony Trabert and Vic Seixas, America's one-two punch in the All-England lawn tennis championships, advanced to the fourth round with hard fought victories over unseeded opponents.

Little League—

Rotary, JC Teams Score Victories

The Rotary Little Leaguers, behind the three hit pitching of Nicky Nicnols, beat the Elks 8-4, and the Jaycees, with Jerry Watson scoring two runs and Wiesing, Gibbs and Holman scoring one run each, defeated the Kiwanis team 5-2, in major league games Wednesday night.

Although the Rotary team was limited to four hits, all to the top of the batting order, their opponents, the Elks, could not rally against the strong and determined Rotarians., Tim Morgan, Morris. Benner and Holderman each had one hit for the winning team and Carson, Houk and Garrison had the lone hits for the losers. Benner of Rotary and Garrison of the Elks, had the only extra base hits, both doubles.

In the Jaycees-Kiwanis contest, the Jaycees scored all of their runs in the fifth inning with the exception of one run in the fourth. Watson scored in the fourth and Holman, Watson, Gibbs and Wiesing scored in the fifth. Dodson and Harris scored the two Kiwanis runs, although Edwards, the first baseman had the only two hits.

Mulcahey went all the way for the Jaycees to take the win.

Tonight the Democrat-Capital team plays the Lions and Adco plays the Optimists.

Harv. Haddix Has Five of Cardinals' Last Eight Wins

PITTSBURGH (AP) —It's too bad the St. Louis Cardinals can't trot Harvey Haddix out every game.

The Redbirds have had just eight victories this month and Haddix pitched five of them. The other three are distributed to Tom Poholsky, Stu Miller and Vic Raschi.

Haddix's 10th straight triumph and 12th this year was a 7-1 affair over the Pittsburgh Pirates last night.

Outfielder Rip Repulski was the big gun at the plate, getting three hits in four trips to the plate—including his 11th home run—and driving in two runs.

It was somewhat of a moral triumph for Pittsburgh in that the Bucs scored the first run off Haddix after 37 scoreless innings by him. They also had five hits, the first time in four games a team has had that many off the St. Louis lefthander.

Haddix now has allowed 15 hits in his last four games.

St. Louis tallied once in the second inning on Ray Jablonski's two-bagger and singles by Repulski and Bill Sarni. In the fifth a double by Red Schoendienst, a safe bunt by Repulski and a single from Sarni's bat—plus a wild pitch and two Pittsburgh bobbles — produced three more runs.

Wally Moon's single and a triple by Schoendienst added another run in the sixth before the Pirates scored on Dick Cole's triple and a ground out by Preston Ward.

The Redbirds added two more runs in the ninth on Rip's four-bagger.

Sports Roundup—

New York Giants Are Shaping Up To Be Top NL Contender

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Three months ago, when the official odds were 6-1 that the New York Giants would not win the National League pennant, several big questions remained to be answered about Leo Durocher's club, which had finished a dismal fifth last year.

Would Johnny Antonelli, obtained from Milwaukee, give the Giants the lefthanded ace they so badly needed and generally bolster a veteran pitching staff which was showing serious signs of wear?

Would Willie Mays, after nearly two years of Army food and second-class baseball, come back to play as brilliantly as he did in sparking the Giants '51 "miracle team" to a flag?

Those were the two main questions, though there also was some doubt that Davey Williams' chronic back trouble would permit him to play a steady second base, and Durocher would have liked to go into the race with some regular rightfielder other than Don Mueller. Added up, they caused a vast majority of Giant fans to keep their betting money in their pockets.

Now that the answers are in and their team is tearing along at the head of the parade after a sensational three-week spurt, the Polo Grounds faithful can only kick themselves for not having foreseen the turn of events. It would be difficult to get better than even money bets now.

Antonelli, with his 9-2 record, finally is living up to the $75,000 bonus that the Boston Braves paid him to sign when he was fresh out of a Rochester, N.Y., high school. He's just turned 24, and catcher Wes Westrum declares he gets better each time out. He's "made" the Giants' staff.

As for Mays, the 23-year-old Negro from Alabama looks as though he had never been away. He is bigger and better in every way. He is hitting a longer ball than he did in '51 and his batting average is much higher. He is terrific afield and on the bases, and the uplift he has given his teammates is a real and tangible thing.

Williams' back is vastly improved and he is teaming solidly with Al Dark around second. Mueller is enjoying the best season of his career and has been up among the league's batting leaders ever since the race began. Leo no longer is looking for a right fielder. The only thing the Giants obviously lack is a hitting catcher, and Westrum didn't exactly hold them back in '51.

Brooklyn fans rabidly resent the publicity Willie's more amazing feats have received and contend that in Duke Snider they have a centerfielder who can do everything Willie does, only better.

"Which," they always demand to know at a certain point, "would you take if you had a choice —a guy who's been hitting up around .370 all year (Snider) or a kid who only just got his average above .300? And don't try to tell me anybody can go get balls that Snider can't."

This is a difficult one to answer. But we would take Willie, and so, we have a strong feeling, would a majority of big league managers who have played against the two clubs this year. We feel that Willie provides a greater inspirational force for his club than does Snider.

Trot, Pacing Free For All Battles Seen

COLUMBUS, O. — Wide open battles for supremacy in the nation's free for all trotting and pacing ranks are shoping up in the world of harness racing with no horse yet able to demonstrate the complete command in either division.

Among the pacers, Philip Scott, racing in the metropolitan New York area, has won three in a row and appears the best in that region but he has not yet faced the national toughies presently engaged in a series of $10,000 events in Maryland.

On the trotting side, a pair of Long Key mares, Katie Key and Lady Dunn, have won the major share of the early season accolades but other trotters also have won in fast time and have beaten the mates in doing so.

Philip Scott, trained by Frank Safford, is really rolling and has rattled off three in a row at the Roosevelt Raceway, the fastest in 2.01 4/5.

Most of the other pacing stars have been at Rosecroft Raceway and Laurel Raceway in Maryland where Thomas B. Scott, Hillsota and Torrid have annexed $10,000 purses, taking turns whipping each other in the process. Thomas B. Scott won in 2.01 1/5 at Rosecroft, a new track record.

Lady Dunn, trained by Ohioan Harry Miller, has won two $10,000 events at Laurel and has beaten Katie Key twice this year. Katie Key has won two of five, one in new track trotting record time (2.03 2/5) at Rosecroft, the other a $15,000 win in 2.03 3/5 at Roosevelt last week.

Anthony Hanover and Jamie also have annexed $10,000 trotting wins while Red Sails and Scotch Spencer have posted rich pacing victories, the latter winner of the $25,400 Roosevelt Special.

When Pronto Don, the leading active money winner, rounds into his peak trotting form and when and if last year's Harness Horse of the Year, Hi-Lo's Forbes, recovers from lameness and returns to the pacing wars, a further winner's circle shakeup in both divisions could take place.

Marshall Race Track Leader Is Jr. Hower

Junior Hower, winner of three out of six features in the weekly stock car races at Sportsman's Speedway, Marshall, has a firm grip on the lead in the point standings for the season championship. Hower, who builds up racing engines as a part of his regular business, almost did too much of a job when he set up the engine run by Torch Aleshire in last Thursday night's competition, as Aleshire nearly nailed the smiling Kansas City pilot at the wire in the main go.

Most observers believed that the carrot-topped Moberly resident was not handling his car as well as usual, perhaps due to the additional power in the new engine. These are the folk who are predicting a win for Aleshire in this week's speedfest. However, there is still plenty of backing for Scotty Scovill, who has collected two feature wins and second spot in the point standings in his checkerboard speedster. Judd Larson, winner of nine straight at a Kansas City track, has yet to collect his second main at the Marshall oval. But his adherents are sure he is overdue. Harold Cromley, Marshall, and John Bowman, Elm, are the other two in the high point bracket, and either, with the proper breaks, could hit the pay dirt this week. Past these six, contention is very close, with four drivers tied for tenth spot, including John Pitt, holder of the altitude record at Sportsman's. Pitt collected 60 points in last week's race.

The battle for the season championship will resume tonight, with racing scheduled for 8:30, preceded by time trials. The field is expected to be increased by drivers feeling out the track in preparation for the 50-lap feature scheduled for July 1st. Sportsman's Speedway is located on highway 240, one mile east of the Marshall city limits.

The standings:

1.	Junior Hower, K. C.	900
2.	Scotty Scovill, K. C.	700
3.	Judd Larsen, Texas	440
4.	Torch Aleshire, Moberly	400
5.	Harold Cromley, Mar.	390
6.	John Bowman, Elm	370

Andrews' Fight With Jim Slade Very Probable

CHICAGO (AP) — Confident Paul Andrews, a rangy ex-paratrooper with a stiff punch in either hand, today drew a bead on an Aug. 4 bout with spoiler Jimmy Slade after enhancing his lightheavy ranking here last night.

Andrews scored a fourth-round technical knockout over rugged Danny Nardico at the Chicago Stadium. The 24-year-old Andrews, ranked sixth as a 175 pounder, dropped Nardico for a nine count in the third round and the Tampa, Fla., slugger was waved off as he tried to start the fourth.

There's a hitch in the Aug. 4 Andrews vs Slade bout here because Slade, who recently untracked Hurricane Jackson, has an ailing hand. If Slade can't come up against Andrews, the Buffalo, N.Y., belter may meet the winner of a heavyweight bout between Jackson and Nini Valdes July 14 at Madison Square Garden.

Andrews might be classed as one of the bright "new faces" in the boxing game's heavy ranks.

He scored his 24th victory against three defeats by cuffing veteran Nardico from the opening bell. Andrews, who hadn't fought previously since losing a 10-round decision to No. 1 lightheavy contender Harold Johnson March 17, was a crisp and deadly puncher last night.

In the second round Andrews slashed open a cut above the wild-swinging Nardico's right eye. In the third Andrews exploded a right to the jaw which dropped Nardico for a nine-count and the ex-Marine was hardly able to weather the round.

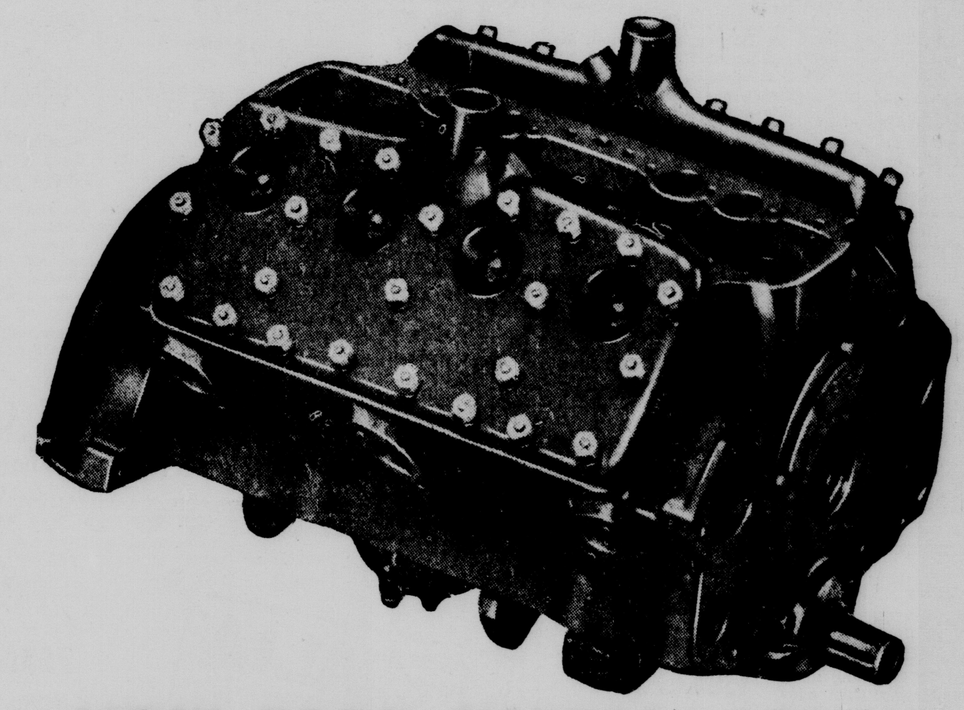

Referee Bernie Weissman was advised by Dr. Irving Slott of the Illinois State Athletic Commission to halt the bout at that point. And when Nardico wobbled out for the fourth, Weissman called it quits.

Andrews weighed 180 and Nardico 178 for the nationally-televised bout which attracted a crowd of 1,889 paying a net of $3,513.89. It was Nardico's 13th defeat against 48 victories.

---AND A GOOD TIP FOR YOU

WHEN it comes to sales, every car maker aspires to be up at the top of his price class.

Which is only natural. Popularity like that means success.

We know, because for years Buick has held such an envied position—the unquestioned sales leader in its class. And with good reasons in styling, room, power, value.

But today, folks like you have pushed Buick success even beyond such bounds.

Today, the top sales standings of a full generation have been changed.

Today, latest sales figures for the first four months of 1954 reveal this phenomenal fact:

In total national volume, regardless of price class, Buick is outselling all cars in America except two of the so-called "low-price three."

That's a tip too good to pass up.

That's the tip-off that Buick must have the hottest styling of the times and the sweetest performance of the year.

More important, that's the tip-off that Buick prices are well within the reach of more and more people—and that such prices buy a lot more automobile per dollar.

So why not look into the tomorrow-styled Buick that puts you so far ahead today?

Come in, or phone us this week for a demonstration. Then you can judge for yourself that Buick really is the beautiful buy—by far.

Convict Dies As 450 Riot In Pontiac

PONTIAC, Ill. (AP)—One convict was killed last night when 450 prisoners at the Pontiac State Penitentiary staged a two-hour riot that was quelled by prison guards with three barrages of tear gas.

Edwin Jenkins, 21, of Chicago, suffered a fatal wound in the back of the head. Prison officials said he was struck in the head either by a hard object or shrapnel from a tear gas bomb.

Damage was limited to several broken windows and a few minor fires which had been set off in trash cans. Pontiac (with 1,500 inmates), is the state's second largest prison.

Warden Daniel E. Bergan said the demonstration began in the west cell block as the prisoners were being returned to their cells after supper.

"They started rioting as they filed into the cell block," said Bergan. The cell block houses 600 convicts.

Bergan said most of the men were in the block when the rioting started but "about 150 refused to enter and were taken back to the dining room."

"We notified the men to file out quickly or they would be gassed," said the warden. "We waited and when they made no sign to come out, we lobbed in some tear gas shells."

More than 100 prisoners, coughing and choking, came out.

Bergan said the second wave of gas brought out all but about 50 of the men.

"Another firing of gas, and then some of the guards, wearing gas masks, entered the block and brought out the last of the prisoners."

Jenins was found lying dead on the floor. He had served two years of a 5-14 year sentence for assault and robbery.

Two Men Push Car To Start It, One Dies In Accident

MOUND CITY, Mo., (AP) — When two men attempted to start a stalled car here yesterday by pushing it down a sloping street, the machine got out of control and fatally injured Benjamin Myers, 63.

Grant Jackson, 83, owner of the car, was injured and is in a hospital at Fairfax, Mo.

Highway troopers said that both Myers and Jackson apparently jumped into the car after it started rolling but were unable to control it before it crashed into a parked car.

Chicago Tribune Poll Shows 91% Favor McCarthy

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Tribune's poll on the McCarthy-Army hearings ended last night with 70,036 persons casting ballots and 91.2 per cent voting in favor of the Wisconsin senator.

The poll, by mail and telephone, was held for six days and followed the 36 days of hearings in the McCarthy-Army controversy.

Those voting in the poll were asked to vote yes or no on two questions:

1. Do you believe Secretary Stevens and Army Counselor Adams and their advisers proved their charges that Sen. McCarthy and his staff exerted improper pressure to secure favored treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine, former committee aid?

2. Do you believe Sen. McCarthy and his staff proved their charges that Stevens, Adams, and their advisers sought to end the inquiry into communism in the Army by threats to circulate an unfounded report about undue favors sought for Schine.

The Tribune reported today that of the mail ballots, 51,824 voted for McCarthy; 4,816 for Pentagon (Army) and 602 were undecided. In voting by telephone, 12,026 were listed for McCarthy; 716 for the Pentagon and 53 were undecided.

The total vote was 63,850 for McCarthy; 5,531 for the Pentagon and 655 undecided.

The Tribune said ballots were counted as "undecided" when the voter marked to show that he believed both sides had proved their charges or that neither side had proved its charges.

CAP Starting Cadet Group For Sedalia

Sedalia Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol is organizing the Civil Air Patrol Cadets. Boys and girls between the ages of 15 and 18 are eligible and those who are under 15 years of age, but are sophomores or higher in high school, are also accepted.

Youngsters who are interested can either attend the Civil Air Patrol Squadron meeting Friday night at the National Guard Armory or contact Capt. Bill Padgett, or other members of the CAP.

The purpose of the cadet program is to be familiarize boys and girls with aviation. They will have an opportunity to be trained in aeronautics, radio, etc., by experienced instructors at no cost. It will give them much information on the 'inside" of aviation which will be of great benefit in the future.

M/Sgt. Lawrence G. Miller of the Sedalia Air Force Base will be in charge of the cadet program. He is well versed on the program and takes delight in supervising the work.

An advisory committee has been named by Capt. Padgett from members of civic clubs. The committee is composed of: Kenneth A. Buchholtz, Lions; Pinkney Miller, Kiwanis; Robert Johnson, Rotary, and Gene Kent, Optimist.

The only cost is the registration fee of $1 per cadet. Once a registered cadet, there is no other registration until after the 18th birthday and at which time the cadet becomes a regular member of the Civil Air Patrol.

Cadets will be eligible for rides in the CAP plane providing they have the permission of their parents.

Sedalian Gets Award from Elks For Speech Work

Mrs. Macy Moree, 1207 East 11th, a teacher for the past ten years in Missouri elementary schools and a speech therapist in public schools here for two years, has been awarded a $355 Elks National Foundation grant for advanced training in speech pathology, Forrest Yoder, Exalted Ruler of Sedalia Elks Lodge, announced today.

According to John F. Malley, Boston, chairman of the federation's board of trustees, who advised Yoder of the grant, Mrs. Moree enrolled the 21st of this month at the University of Denver for a nine-week course.

A graduate of Central Missouri State College where she earned her B. S. degree in education, speech correction and rehabilitation, Mrs. Moree is currently working for her master's degree in speech therapy.

Similar grants have been awarded to more than 190 doctors, nurses and technicians by the foundation since 1950 to meet the demand for trained personnel in the treatment of cerebral palsy.

Short Voyage

ELGIN, Ill. (AP) — Arthur Chapa, 12, decided he's build a raft and float down the Fox River. He became panicky when the raft began to rock in the wind-swept waves. Not being a good swimmer, he jumped anyway. A playmate on shore yelled. Their screams attracted nearby residents and police were notified. They arrived to find rescue wasn't needed. The water was shallow and Arthur waded ashore.

Home Pasteurization For Safe Milk

Pasteurization is not to be used as a substitute for clean, sanitary production. It is an added, necessary protection against bacteria that carry diseases. But first comes the production of clear and wholesome milk.

"How may milk be handled so it will be safe for the farm family?" This question is asked repeatedly. The answer now appears to be home pasteurization by means of simple, inexpensive equipment within reach of all.

Pasteurization properly applied to fluid milk is the only known method that will destroy all the diseases that may be transmitted through milk. Long experience has shown the value of this process in preventing such diseases as tuberculosis, undulant fever, and typhoid fever.

On a commercial scale, pasteurization has long been used in our large milk markets to protect families who buy their milk and other dairy products. But only in recent years has the process been adapted for convenient use in the home.

Effects of Pasteurization

Properly pasteurized milk retains its nutritive value. Its protein, milk sugar (lactose), butterfat, calcium, phosphorus and vitamins A and B2 (riboflavin) are not greatly changed by pasteurization. On the other hand, the heat of pasteurization may destroy some of the vitamin B1 (thiamin), vitamin C (ascorbic acid), and vitamin D. But the loss of part of these vitamins is not considered detrimental to the health since they are supplied abundantly in other foods.

Children who drink pasteurized milk grow and develop, it is shown by all available evidence as well as those receiving raw milk. This indicates that the growth promoting qualities of milk are not destroyed by pasteurization. And the increased safety provided by pasteurization far outweighs such slight difference as may occur in the food values of pasteurized and raw milk.

Methods for Safe Pasteurization

To insure proper pasteurization every particle of milk must be heated to at least 143 degrees F. and maintained at this temperature continuously for 30 minutes or to at least 160 degrees F. and maintained at such temperature for 15 seconds. The use of either method will produce a safe milk which is free of disease-producing bacteria.

Small electric home pasteurizers are best adapted for the methods requiring 143 degrees F. for 30 minutes, while the use of ordinary kitchen utensils can most advantageously be adapted to the method of heating to 160 degrees F. for 15 seconds. Regardless of the method used a good floating dairy thermometer is essential for checking temperature to assure properly pasteurized milk. I these maintained for the required time, the process will be useless and the milk not properly pasteurized. The dairy thermometer can be secured from the hardware, dairy supply company or a local diary plant. In certain instances the temperature recommended is approximately 2 degrees F. higher than is necessary to secure proper pasteurization of milk. The reason such recommendation is made is due to the inaccuracy of the floating dairy thermometer. These thermometers are accurate only to 2 degrees plus or minus of the reading of the scale.

Double Boiler

The simple home procedure of using a double boiler can be done most conveniently and accurately as follows: With the milk in the top section, place over boiling water in the bottom section and stir until the temperature of the milk reaches 163 degrees to 165 degrees F. Avoid higher temperatures as they destroy the creaming ability of milk and may result in the formation of cooked flavors. Remove from the heat as soon as the right temperature is reached, and cool at once by setting the top section of the double boiler in a pan of running water. Occasional stirring will greatly speed up the cooling process but may result in the formation of a surface film, which is the cause of slightly cooked flavors in pasteurized milk. A cover placed over the milk during cooling and subsequent storage will eliminate the formation of the film and cooked flavor. When the milk is cold, pour into clean bottles or jars that have been treated with chlorine or hot water, 170 degrees F. or higher for one minute. Store in the refrigerator or other cool, dark place until used.

Cooling and Storage

Regardless of the method used for pasteurizing milk, it should be cooled immediately to 60 degrees F. or lower before storage. In certain localities in summer, this temperature cannot be reached by the use of running water, therefore it is recommended that ice be added to the water for final cooling of the milk to 60 degrees F. or lower. After cooling to a low temperature the milk should be stored in the refrigerator or in a cool, dark place until used.

Where possible the milk should be stored in the container used for pasteurization. This may not always be feasible and in such cases, pour the milk into clean bottles or jars previously sanitized by immersing in a solution of 200 parts per million of chlorine, or in 170 degrees F. water, for two minutes. Jars should be covered and labeled if other milk is stored in the same type of container.

After the milk has been properly pasteurized and cooled, precautions must be taken to prevent it becoming contaminated again. Pasteurization will provide a safe milk which in most cases will store for longer periods than raw milk. However, if recontamination occurs, spoilage may develop faster than before pasteurization. Milk used for cooking purposes need not be pasteurized since the bacteria will be destroyed in the cooking process.

Guard Against Mildew

A good time to get set against mildew damage in your home is before hot, humid "mildew weather" arrives. Molds that cause the mildew thrive in damp, warm, poorly ventilated and poorly lighted places. They grow on anything from which they can get food—cotton, linen, silk, wool, leather, paper or wood, for example, often getting a start on dust or other soil. They decay wood and discolor fabrics and leather. If left to grow, they may eat into fabrics, rot and ruin them. To prevent mildew, make sure that clothes or household goods are clean and dry when stored for the summer and then are put in a clean, dry place. For example, when storing winter clothes and blankets, make sure they are both clean and dry before they go into tight containers—then put the container in a dry place. Otherwise, mildew may cause serious damage. Though the basement may seem dry, it's hazardous for summer storage because condensation in muggy weather causes dampness. Automatic de-humidifying appliances are being widely used today, especially in basements. Electric fans, chemicals that absorb moisture and keep an electric bulb burning in small clothes closets also are helpful against mildew.

Mamie Congratulates Girl for Talent In Designing Hats

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Patsy Wright, 17-year-old St. Louis school girl, has received encouragement from Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower in her desire to become a hat designer.

She designed and made a "peachbasket style" hat for the President's wife and sent it to her two weeks ago—after getting her head size to be sure it would fit.

Yesterday she got a letter from Mrs. Eisenhower complimenting Patsy on her work and adding, "it means a great deal to me to think you'd go to o much trouble to make this swell gift for me."

High Fast One

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—A Weather Bureau balloon soared to a record height of 134,598 feet — about 25.5 miles — before it burst.

That was about 21,575 feet higher than the previous mark.

The balloons, which send out radio signals recording temperature, humidity and pressure, are about 6 feet in diameter when they are released.

They expand to about 20 feet at maximum height, most of them bursting at 80,000 feet.

Southern-Style Chicken Is Tasty Fourth of July Meal

OVEN-FRIED SOUTHERN CHICKEN with biscuits makes an idea Fourth of July dinner.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

One of our favorite Chicago hostesses, Marian Loofe, has a deft touch with broiler-fryer chickens. Her short-cut way of preparing southern-fried chicken suggests a Fourth of July party and her Frenchified spring chicken saute inspires invitations to an unusually welcome summer night dinner.

Oven Chicken and Biscuits
(Yield: 3-4 servings)

One fresh or frozen chicken for frying, cut in pieces, 1 cup biscuit mix, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon powdered sage, ¼ cup each, shortening and butter or margarine, 2 cups biscuit mix, 2-3 cup buttermilk.

Dip chicken pieces in a mixture of 1 cup biscuit mix, salt, pepper, and sage to coat well. Melt shortening in a shallow baking dish (9x13x2) in a hot oven (425 deg. F.).

Remove baking dish from oven and place chicken skin side down in a single layer. Bake in a hot utes. Turn chicken. Combine 2 cups biscuit mix and buttermilk. Roll dough ½-inch thick; cut biscuits; place on the bottom of the pan, being sure both chicken and biscuits remain in a single layer. Bake another 15 minutes or until biscuits are lightly brown and chicken is tender.

Spring Chicken Saute Chasseurs
(Yield: 6 servings)

Two to 2½ pound frying chicken, cut in pieces, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, ¼ cup flour, 2 teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon thyme, 4 green onions, chopped, ¼ pound mushrooms, cut into quarters, 2 tablesoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-3 cup apply juice, 2 medium tomatoes, diced (or 2 whole canned tomatoes, drained and diced), 2 tablespoons chopped parsley and chives.

Heat butter in heavy skillet. Mix flour, salt, pepper and thyme in a paper bag. Shake pieces of chicken in seasoned flour mixture and brown thoroughly in butter in skillet. Add onions and mushrooms.

Cover and simmer 3 minutes. Mix lemon juice, sugar, salt and apple juice and pour over chicken. Cover and simmer 5 minutes. Add tomatoes. Cook slowly over low heat about 1 hour or until chicken is fork tender. Sprinkle with parsley and chives. Serve hot.

Food in Toys

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—In an effort to stimulate children's interest in different foods, a manufacturer now is making squeezable plastic food containers, in the shape of tomatoes, teddy bears and bunnies. The containers were featured at the American Management Association packaging show here.

Townsite Melts

OTTAWA (AP)—A 10-man survey party is seeking a new site for the remote artic community of Aklavik on the MacKenzie River delta 70 miles south of the Arctic Ocean.

The 42-year-old settlement, largest in the Canadian arctic, is in danger of sinking through melting permafrost. Summer heat, ground warmth created by buildings and excavations and roads turn the present permafrost terrain into a quagmire.

Lack of an adequate year-round water supply and sewage disposal system has created a serious health problem for the 400 whites, 250 Eskimos and 125 Indians who live in the community.

Foreigner Complains

NEW YORK (AP)—Alex Faulkner, New York correspondent for the London Daily Telegraph, says that when he took a vacation fishing trip to Massachusetts:

"I was told that foreigners who have not been domiciled there for a year or more are not even eligible for non-resident fishing licenses."

Faulkner says a check shows that Delaware, Kansas, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Virginia also forbid fishing by foreigners and hunting by foreigners is forbidden in these six states plus Connecticut, Illinois, Nebraska, New Jersey, New Mexico, North Dakota and Utah.

Only 40 Million Miles Away---

Mars Is Closer to Earth Today Than It Has Been In 13 Years

NEW YORK (AP) — Someday, perhaps not in this century, man will explore space. Someday, when he cuts through the heavens like a celestial arrow, he will seek the red planet Mars.

No planet in the sky has excited the imagination as much as Mars because of one tantalizing question: Does it contain life?

Today Mars comes closer to earth than it has in 13 years. Today the two planets are only 40 million miles apart — a mere arm's length in the infinite distances of the universe. As Joseph M. Chamberlain, genera. manager and chief astronomer of the American Museum-Hayden Planetarium explains it: the earth, traveling in a smaller orbit than that of Mars, has caught up with the other planet in their race around the sun.

Look, then, for Mars burning redly in the southern skies from early evening until sunrise. Observatories and back yard astronomers everywhere will train their telescopes on the red planet tonight and in the summer nights immediately following, seeking answers to strange mysteries.

We definitely know several things about Mars. It's about half the size of earth, with an equatorial diameter of 4,200 miles. Its day lasts 24 hours and 37 minutes and its year 687 days with the seasons almost twice as long as ours. The surface gravity is only four tenths that of earth; thus a man who weighs only 60 pounds here would weigh only 60 pounds out there. It's very cold on Mars with the average surface temperature about minus 70 degrees Fahrenheit.

Man's increasingly close scrutiny of Mars has come about, as Chamberlain says, because "of all our neighbor worlds, Mars most closely satisfies standards of climate and topography which might allow for a few familiar life forms."

It has absorbed astronomers since Galileo. But interest in it has greatly increased since 1877 when an Italian astronomer named Giovanni Schiaparelli sighted thin lines on the planet's surface. He called them "canali," meaning channels. Almost immediately the public thought it meant "canals" and interpreted them as artificial and therefore the work of intelligent life. Thus began the popular idea that there was life on Mars.

Many scientists see no reason to believe the canali are the work of intelligent beings, however. Rather, they say, the canali are the result of natural causes—fissure or volcanic cracks or glacial tracks. Other astronomers never have been able to see the canali and doubt their existence.

As Mars draws near earth, scientists will seek many missing parts in the jigsaw puzzle. They will study its weather conditions. They will try with radiometers to determine the amount of light and heat radiation from the planet. Spectrographs, which thus far have failed to detect any water vapor in the planet's atmosphere, will be employed again.

Yet even this intensive study of the Martian world is but a preliminary rehearsal to September 1956, when Mars will be only about 35 million miles from earth. Then mankind may be nearer the answers to the mysterious questions:

What lies under the surface of Mars? If there is not life as we now understand it, is it there in some earlier phase of evolution? Or is it possible that Mars contains the vestiges of a vanished civilization?

A Hot Bread for a Luncheon Treat

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press food Editor

Sleuthing around for recipes is one of our main occupations when we are on vacation. That's how we came up with this recipe for Anadama Bread from Rockport on Cape Ann, Mass. Tasting of such good old-fashioned foods as molasses and cornmeal, this yeast-raised loaf is just right with summertime vegetable chowders and salads.

Make this bread when you are up bright and early one of these mornings. Let it rise about two hours all together, then bake it before noon so you'll have something delightfully fresh and fragrant to give substance to that summer luncheon menu.

Anadama Bread

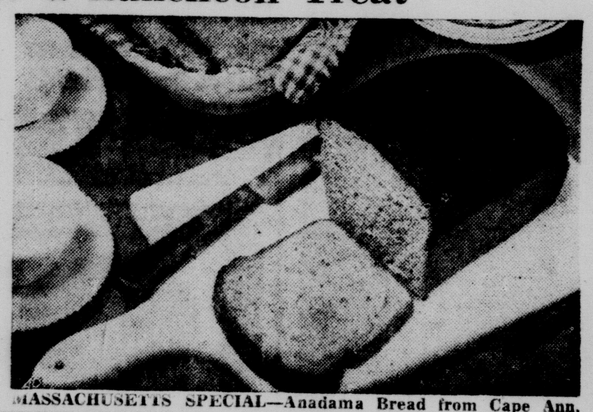

Ingredients: 2 cups water, ½ cup yellow cornmeal, 2 tablespoons shortening, ½ cup molasses, 1½ teaspoons salt, 1 package active dry or 1 cake compressed yeast, ½ cup water, 5 cups (about) sifted flour.

Method: Boil water; stir cornmeal slowly into the boiling water. When thoroughly mixed add shortening, molasses and salt. Pour mixture into a large mixing bowl and cool to lukewarm. Sprinkle or crumble yeast into water; use warm (not hot) water for active dry yeast; lukewarm water for compressed yeast. Stir until dissolved. When cornmeal-molasses mixture is lukewarm, stir in dissolved yeast and enough flour to make a stiff dough. Turn dough out on a lightly floured board and knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 to 10 minutes. Place in a greased bowl; cover with a cloth and let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk — about 1 hour. Turn out on a lightly floured board. Cut dough in half and form each half into a loaf. Place loaves in 2 greased bread pans, 7½by3½by2¾ inches. Cover with a cloth. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk — about 1 hour. Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven 50 to 60 minutes.

If you have ever eaten any of the good food to be had in and around Provincetown, Mass., you will be interested in "Peter Hunt's Cape Cod Cookbook," recently published by Hawthorn. Hunt, well-known for his decorating work, has illustrated his book delightfully. The recipes, as the author says, are from New England, Portuguese and what might be called "sophisticated sources." "Sophisticated" means summer visitors, of course. The whole book is so readable that it is quite obvious its author knows and enjoys good food.

Last time we were in Provincetown, Menalkas Duncan of sandal-shop fame, made us the best after-midnight snack we had ever eaten. We were delighted to find this good trick in Hunt's book. Look for it under the title of "Midnight Boogie — Never Before 12!"

Foam rubber has been combined with cotton carpeting to make a skid-proof, longer wearing rug which can be laundered in a washing machine. Because of the rug's porous nature, air can circulate freely through it, keeping it cleaner.

THE BEST WAY TO MAKE THE BEST JAMS IS THE NEW UNCOOKED WAY!

YOU'LL SEE WHY once you've used M.C.P. JAM AND JELLY PECTIN'S exclusive new recipes that do away with the usual cooking and boiling. There's no working over a hot stove . . . and you get ALL the fresh fruit flavor, use less fruit and sugar yet get more jam (4 pints jam from 4 cups fruit) — because no part of the flavor, fruit and sugar is cooked away! Cooked jams made with M.C.P. PECTIN are the finest of their kind, but for the best jams of all, use M.C.P.'s uncooked jam recipes. Here's the one for FRESH BERRY JAM:

HERE'S THE RECIPE*

1. Wash, stem, crush thoroughly enough berries to make 4 level cups; put in 2 or 4 qt. kettle. Sift in slowly 3½-oz. package M.C.P. JAM AND JELLY PECTIN (no other will do), stirring vigorously. Set aside 30 minutes, stirring occasionally to dissolve pectin fully.
2. Add 1 cup light corn syrup. Mix well.
3. Measure exactly 5½ level cups beet or cane sugar into dry dish; gradually stir into crushed berries. Warming to 100° F. (temperature for baby's milk) will hasten sugar dissolving. No hotter, please!
4. When sugar is dissolved, jam is ready to eat. Makes 4 full pints. (Note: For Strawberries, add ¼ cup lemon juice in Step 3, after sugar is dissolved; mix well. For Black Raspberries put 3¾ cups crushed berries and ¼ cup lemon juice in kettle in step 1.)
5. Because these are uncooked jams, never store them on panty shelf. They won't keep without refrigeration. To keep for a month or more, chill for 24 hours in freezer, or freezing or ice cube compartment of refrigerator. Then, store as you do milk and use as desired. To make large amounts at one time and keep them for a long period, storage in deep freeze (10° below to 20° above zero) is needed.

IMPORTANT! Complete recipes for both cooked and uncooked jams are now being packed in the M.C.P. PECTIN package. If recipe folder you get does NOT include those for uncooked jams, write M.C.P. Co., Anaheim, Calif., and they'll be sent promptly.

IT'S A WONDERFUL BEVERAGE BARGAIN THAT'S AWFULLY HARD TO BEAT!

HOMEMADE LEMONADE . . . made in a jiffy with ready-to-use M.C.P. CANNED LEMON JUICE. One can makes 12 glasses for about ⅓ the cost of 12 bottles of most soft drinks . . . and for wholesomeness there's no comparison! M.C.P. LEMON JUICE is pure, unadulterated, full-strength juice, rich in Vitamin C. It's NOT "reconstituted" . . . contains no preservative of any kind, such as unwholesome sulphur dioxide or benzoate of soda. (Watch for this when you buy lemon juice, canned or bottled . . . read the label carefully!) Besides making lemonade, there are dozens of other wonderful ways to use convenient M.C.P. LEMON JUICE every day, as you'll see from the FREE Recipe Folder available by writing the M.C.P. Kitchen Laboratory, Anaheim, Calif. (There's M.C.P. FROZEN LEMON JUICE, too. If your grocer hasn't got it, he can easily get it for you.)

Six Princesses and the King of Belgium

His Eight Million Subjects Think It's Time He Got Married

By Rosette Hargrove

NEA Staff Correspondent

BRUSSELS, Belgium — Eight million people of Belgium think it's high time their 24-year-old king got serious about marriage.

The Belgians want a queen. They've wanted one ever since Baudoin ascended the throne. A young wife, they say, would lighten his burden, dispel the cloud of sadness that hovers over him and finally, put an end to what is known in Brussells as the "royal uneasiness."

Both his grandfather and father were married before they were 25. But the marriage of a king is hedged in with all manner of hurdles. Who can Baudoin marry?

KING BAUDOIN: "a woman as beautiful as my mother."

Matchmakers in royal circles have a ready reply to that question. They list no less than six eligible European princesses, all young and attractive, who could become the bride of the serious young king, sometimes called the "Melancholic One."

First in line comes Margaret of England, followed by Margaretha of Sweden, Isabelle of France, Marie-Christine and Dona Sandra Vittoria, both of Italian royal houses, and finally Alexandra of Kent.

At the moment, however, Marie-Christine holds the lead in royal rumor circles. There have been recent reports that Baudoin had requested the hand of the daughter of the late Duke of Aosta.

The Belgian court immediately

QUEEN MOTHER: She's the standard son Baudoin goes by.

denied such reports, although there were similar rumors two years ago when Baudoin went to Italy, sent Marie-Christine a magnificent bouquet of red roses — and a note of regrets.

As for Princess Margaret, some people believe there are too many obstacles.

First there is the "estrangement" between the two royal families which stems back to the late King George's criticism of King Leopold (Baudoin's father) during the last war. That is why Baudoin did not attend the British king's funeral and sent his brother Albert to represent him at the coronation of Elizabeth II.

In Belgian court circles, the answer to that one is that Leopold would consider the marriage of Baudoin and Margaret a happy solution to the "estrangement." But there are two other factors: Margaret is a Protestant, and Baudoin a Catholic — and there is handsome Peter Townsend who is said to have won Margaret's heart.

Baudoin could, like his father, marry a Princess of the Snows. Margaretha of Sweden is 20, a typical Nordic beauty, and the most democratically-educated European princess. She would be received with open arms by the Belgian people, who today still remember and venerate their dearly-beloved Queen Astrid.

Twenty-two-year-old Isabelle of France is the eldest daughter of the Comte de Paris, pretender to the French throne. She, too, has much to please the Belgians. She was born on their soil when her father was an exile. She is known for her utter simplicity, is gay, charming and good-looking.

As a child she played with Baudoin and today they have many tastes in common, particularly horseback riding and the study of history. The announcement of their engagement was denied four years ago, probably because it was then considered premature.

Brussels issued another denial last February to the report that Baudoin was to go to Rome to meet Dona Sandra Vittoria, eldest daughter of Don Alexander Torlonia and the Spanish Infanta, Beatrice of Bourbon.

This princess is 18, a beautiful blonde, and has just completed a convent education. She is also the richest Italian heiress. Dona Sandra was said to have cast a spell over the melancholy young king.

While Princess Alexandria, the daughter of the Duchess of Kent, is only 17, this would not be considered too young in royal circles where princesses often marry in their teens.

Baudoin's "entourage" considers she would be an ideal wife for him. This marriage would also fulfill the dearest wishes of Queen Mother Elizabeth of Belgium, who has never hidden her deep pro-British feelings.

From such a bevy of beautiful fairy-tale princesses, which one will Baudoin eventually choose?

The only statement the young sovereign is said to have ever made on the point is: "I will marry when I meet a woman as beautiful as my mother."

Tasty Norway Kippers Pep Up Familiar Dishes

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Kippers — those lightly smoked fillets of herring caught in the Norwegian fjords—give a new magic flavor accent to some of our familiar American dishes.

We had them last week at a party, used in open-faced sandwiches. Our hostess, a woman noted for her entertaining, gave us her family recipe.

Kippered Open Sandwiches
(Yield: 2 to 4 servings)

One (3¼-ounce) can Norway kippers, 4 slices bread, ½ cup grated Cheddar cheese. 2 teaspoons finely grated onion, 1 canned pimiento, 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Toast the bread on one side only. Mix the cheese with the grated onion and spread on untoasted side of bread. Arrange pieces of kippers over cheese. Cut pimiento into strips and arrange crosswise over kippers. Sprinkle with lemon juice. Broil until topping is hot. Serve at once.

These kippers, by the way, are very inexpensive and come in aluminum cans that are unusually easy to open.

With eggs on the list of June plentiful foods, and kippers so cheap, here's a budget breakfast surprise:

Kippers and Shirred Eggs

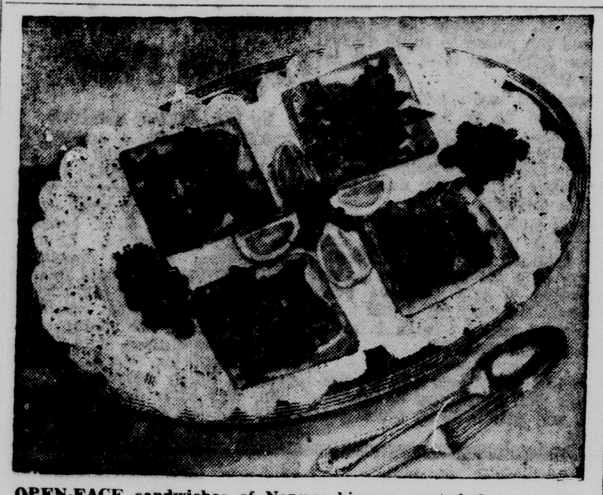

One (3¼-ounce) can Norway kippers, 2 eggs, ½-ounce butter or margarine, 1 tablespoon bread crumbs, salt, pepper to taste.

Butter a ramekin lightly and sprinkle with bread crumbs. Empty the contents of one can of kippers and place in ramekin. Over the kippers, break two eggs. Bake in 350-degree F. oven for 30 minutes or cook on top of stove over a low fire. Garnish with fresh parsley and serve in ramekin.

Here are two more ways to use them:

Sunday Supper Dish: Dilute 1 can condensed mushroom soup with 2-3 cup of milk; add diced Norway kippers. Heat. Serve on seasoned buttered cooked noodles.

Saturday Lunch: Add diced Norway kippers to your favorite tossed green salad. Serve with cheese biscuits for a delicious Saturday lunch.

OPEN-FACE sandwiches of Norway kippers, grated cheese, onion and pimiento will bring you a new taste thrill.

No Money Authorized For Osage River Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House public works subcommittee today approved authorizations of 13 new flood control projects to cost $178,123,550.

The recommendation goes now to the full committee for probable inclusion in an omnibus authorization bill for flood control and rivers and harbors projects.

The authorization of projects merely approves their construction. Money for the work is subject to separate action.

Largest authorization approved today was additional reservoirs and local protection projects on the Kansas River and tributaries in Kansas and Nebraska at an estimated cost of $73,710,000.

Others included:

Charitan River, Iowa and Mo., $19,612,000; Osage River and tributaries, Mo. and Kan., no monetary authorization.

The subcommittee deferred action indefinitely on these requested authorizations:

Mississippi River above Missouri River, upper Iowa, $979,600.

One tiny specias of beetle lives had 26 per cent of the income of the world in 1938 and 40.7 per cent in 1948 says the Twentieth Century Fund.

WORM TURNED—It takes a heap of straining for Eddie Kamler, 8, to show off this 13½-pound catfish. The biggest thus far this season taken from Kansas' Big Eleven Lake, it was caught with a worm as bait. (NEA)

TREAD LIGHTLY—It pays to walk lightly in a mine field, so British Royal Engineers are experimenting with inflatable sneakers which they can wear while sweeping for land mines. Sapper John Bonny, left, inflates one of the sneakers before trying them out, right. Behind Bonny is Sgt. Ivan Liley with a personal detecting "device," a mine-finding dog named "Ike." Scene of the experimenting is Tidworth, England.

Canned Meat Salads Beat the Heat

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

A cook's energy may dwindle, appetites may lag, but families still need well-balanced meals. How to handle this hot-weather situation? One way is to use canned meats in salads, for meats in cans provide the same complete protein, B Vitamins and minerals as do those that are prepared at home.

Here are four such salads we can recommend. There's variety aplenty here, so take your choice. First comes good old potato salad, its flavor heightened with mustard, vinegar and parsley. Top it with open-end Vienna sausage, a blend of delicately smoked pork and beef. You can prepare this salad ahead of time, then reheat for 20 minutes before serving. Next comes popular tomatoes stuffed with a deviled ham mixture. Mixed greens call on luncheon meat to make them hearty. Cabbage slaw, as you would expect, takes corned beef for its partner.

Hot Potato Salad

Ingredients: 5 to 6 medium size potatoes (2 pounds), ½ cup diced celery, 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion, 2 teaspoons salt, 4 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons flour, ¼ teaspoon dry mustard, 3 tablespoons sugar, ½ cup cider vinegar, ¼ cup water, ¼ teaspoon tabasco sauce, 1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley, two 4-ounce cans Vienna sausage.

Method: Cook potatoes in skins until tender, peel and dice. Put in a 1½-quart casserole; add celery and onion. Sprinkle with 1 teaspoon of the salt. Melt butter over low heat; add flour, mustard, sugar and remaining 1 teaspoon salt; stir until smooth. Add vinegar, water and tabasco. Cook over moderately low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and comes to a boil. Pour over potatoes; sprinkle with parsley. Mix lightly with a fork, being careful not to break potatoes. Let stand 1 hour. Arrange sausage on top of salad. Cover and reheat in a moderate (375F) oven, 30 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Deviled Tomato Salad

Ingredients: 2 small cans deviled ham, ¼ cup mayonnaise, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 2 tablespoons drained pickle relish, ½ cup finely diced celery, 1 teaspoon minced onion, 4 medium size tomatoes.

Method: Mix together deviled ham mayonnaise and prepared mustard. Stir in pickle relish, celery and onion. Chill several hours. Cut tomatoes into sixths "petal fashion." Fill centers with ham mixture. Makes 4 servings.

Jackstraw Salad

Ingredients: One 12-ounce can luncheon meat, mixed salad greens (broken into pieces), ½ cup sliced raw cauliflower, one cup of sliced radishes, French dressing.

Method: Cut luncheon meat into strips ¼-inch wide. Put salad greens, cauliflower and radishes into salad bowl; pile luncheon meat on top. Add dressing; toss lightly. Makes 4 servings. To prepare French dressing for salad, mix together ½ cup salad oil, 2 tablespoons wine vinegar, ¾ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, ½ teaspoon dry mustard, ¼ teaspoon paprika. Shake or beat before serving.

Cole Slaw and Corned Beef

Ingredients: One 12 - ounce can corned beef (chill before cubing), 4 cus shredded cabbage, 1 cup diced celery, 1-3 cup chopped green pepper, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon celery seed, ¼ teasoon tabasco sauce, 1 cup mayonnaise.

Method: Mix corned beef, cabbage, celery and green pepper. Mix lemon juice, salt, celery seed, tabasco and mayonnaise; toss lightly with corned beef mixture. Makes 4 servings.

FOUR SALADS in which you can use canned meats.

Serve Stars-and-Stripes Pie To Your Guests on 'Fourth'

What's more American than apple pie? Especially with the flag on top made of green and red maraschino cherries. Mrs. James Shinn Maier of Villa Nova, Pa., gave us the idea and her recipe to help us celebrate the Fourht of July.

Cherry-Apple Stars-and-Stripes Pie
(Makes one 9-inch pie)

One recipe plain pastry, 7 medium-sized tart apples, peeled, cored and sliced, ½ cup chopped maraschino cherries, drained (about 20 cherries), 1-3 cup sugar, ¾ teaspoon cinnamon, dash nutmeg, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, green maraschino cherries, halved, red maraschino cherries, quartered, Swiss cheese strips.

Divide dough into half. Roll half of dough out on lightly floured board to ⅛-inch thickness. Line a 9-inch pie plate with pastry; trim off excess pastry. Combine sliced apples and ½ cup chopped cherries; mix lightly.

Combine sugar, cinnamon and nutmeg; mix well. Add to apple-cherry mixture and toss lightly but thoroughly. Turn into pastry-lined pie plate. Roll out remaining half of pie dough to ⅛-inch thickness and cover filling. Trim edge, seal and flute as desired.

Cut a few slits in top crust to allow escape of steam. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 deg. F.) 50 to 60 minutes, or until apples are tender. Arrange cherries and cheese strips on top of cooled pie to resemble an American flag.

Use green cherries as background for the stars, red cherries for the red stripes and cheese strips for the white stripes. Swiss cheese may be grated over green cherries for stars, if desired.

THE STARS AND STRIPES glorify this Fourth of July apple pie, which will bring skyrockets of praise from all.

There Are Forces In Morocco Who Want US to Suffer Loss

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

RABAT, French Morocco (AP) — "Someday some of you Americans might get killed here. When that happens, please — please do not lose your heads."

These words came to me from a highly placed person in Morocco who must otherwise remain unidentified.

I asked him to elaborate. He replied with a shrug and the remark: "There are forces here who want you to lose your heads."

This informant was one of many who insist there is much foreign influence in the creeping terror in North Africa, an area which has come to be of strategic importance to Western defense.

Daily killings of French and Moroccans are commonplace now. The objective of the terror — whether the influence comes from local extremists, nationalists, Arab League propaganda, Moscow agents or from all these sources — is the same in the French view. It is to keep France off balance in the area and render it unstable.

Leaving aside the justice or unreasonableness of nationalist aspirations, instability in North Africa has grave meaning for the United States and her allies. What if North Africa, and particularly Morocco, should blow up in internal strife? There might be little choice eventually for the United States but to abandon the important air bases built here under agreement with the French.

The United States has three bases completed and one nearly completed and already operational in Morocco, at a cost of more than 300 million dollars. The bases were begun shortly after the Korean War exploded. The French permitted 7,500 Americans to be based permanently in Morocco to run the installations. Almost all are skilled personnel.

Present plans call for five bases in Spain to complement the North African program. This will make up a great single defense complex —a deterrent to any overt aggressive move by Moscow. There are an inner ring of bases in North Africa, England, Spain and Turkey and an outer ring forged by Iceland, Greenland and the Pacific area.

American experts say these rings are so formidable Moscow must keep its air force at 50 per cent fighters to offset the bomber threat. The more bases the West has, the more freedom of action it has in time of war, from the standpoint of choosing places from which to attack. The more bases the West has, the more Moscow's air defense problems increase, the more its defenses must be dispersed.

Loss of Morocco would mean loss of an area within easy striking distance of strategic targets, an area whose weather permits takeoffs all but 17 days a year.

Communists are outlawed both in Tunis and Morocco, but there is a hard core of 500 Morroccan Communists, built up by French Reds with the help of France's Communist-dominated labor federation.

Obviously under orders from outside, the Communist party of Morocco has become supernationalist —more than that, monarchist—in its attempts to woo and infiltrate the nationalist movement. It refers to "His Majesty" Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef, whose ouster by the French nine months ago is the issue which most stirs Morocco today.

The Communists play constantly on an anti-American theme, trying to whip up local and nationalist sentiment against the United States.

Intelligent Moroccan leaders realize the Communists, under Secretary Ali Yata, are trying to infiltrate their ranks. Yet the day may come when, after long irritations and terror, alliances of opportunity may lure some of the more extreme elements. And Communists are schooled in terror. It is not beyond possibility that they might arrange the well-timed killing of Americans.

Tomorrow — The outlook from Paris.

Donnie received a letter from the corporation congratulating him for his fine showing among thousands of boys and girls all over America.

With the letter was enclosed a form containing questions about the bicycle and shipping instructions. As soon as Donnie returns the form, the new bike will be on its way to him.

Debt Fund Urged

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—A housewife sent $1 to Gov. John Lodge, saying she wanted it applied to the reduction of the national debt. A clergyman followed with a $100 contribution. Lodge forwarded both contributions to U. S. Treasurer Ivy Baker Priest together with the housewife's suggestion for an annual drive to reduce the debt through voluntary citizens' contributions.

Try These Barbecued Franks At Your Picnic On the 'Fourth'

PERFECT FOR FOURTH OF JULY outdoor eating are grilled barbecued franks.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Barbecued franks can be mighty good eating. For the Fourth of July picnic what could be easier or more welcome?

We use one of those new portable charcoal grills in a Scotch plaid container. They do a surprisingly good job neatly and are inexpensive. Here's the way we do our franks in the open. Think you'll like them our way.

Barbecued Frankfurters
(Makes 8 servings)

Eight frankfurters, about 1 pound, ¾ cup barbecue sauce, 8 frankfurter rolls.

With a sharp knife score frankfurters lightly three or four times. Place on grill rack over glowing coals. Grill until brown, about 5 to 8 minutes. Brush with barbecue sauce and turn. Grill other side until brown, about 3 to 5 minutes longer. Brush with sauce and serve in frankfurter rolls.

Rolls may be toasted lightly on the grill before using. If desired, first brush frankfurters all over with bottled browning gravy sauce.

Quick 'n' Easy Barbecue Sauce
(Makes about ¾ cup)

One half cup catsup, 2 tablespoons honey, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1 tablespoon prepared mustard, 2 teaspoons kitchen bouquet.

Combine all ingredients and mix thoroughly. Use immediately or store in refrigerator until needed.

Barbecue Sauce
(Makes about 1¾ cups)

Two tablespoons cooking oil, 1-3 cup minced onion, 1 small clove garlic, minced, ½ cup strained honey, ½ cup tomato catsup, ½ cup red wine vinegar, ¼ cup Worchestershire sauce, 1½ teaspoon dry mustard, 1½ teaspoons salt, ½ teaspoon oregano, ½ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon thyme.

Place oil in small saucepan, add onion, garlic and cook, stirring frequently, over moderate heat until onion is tender but not brown, about 3 minutes. Add remaining ingredients, mixing well. Bring to boil, stirring constantly. Lower heat and simmer for 5 minutes. This may be stored in refrigerator and used as needed.

Although Easter is scheduled for the first full moon after the vernal equinox, the date is set not by observation of the real moon but by rules established before astronomers knew as much as they now do about the movements of the moon.

He's Mr. U.S.A.

BAKER, Ill. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Armstrong are among the few in the nation with the initials of U.S.A. Armstrong, 85, says:

"My father was Don Armstrong and he was a great admirer of Gen. U. S. Grant. But while I have the same first name as the general and late president—Ulysses—my middle name is not Simpson, as his was. It is Stinson, so the full name is Ulysses Stinson Armstrong."

Use of fingerprints for identification was widely used in the ancient world, but a scientific development of the modern system did not start until 1823.

Stony Islet Guarded

SEOUL (AP)—A stony outcropping in the Japan sea which admittedly is not normally habitable will be defended against "trespassing" of Japanese fishermen by a 20-man Korean garrison force, according to South Korean police.

The islet—Tokto to the Koreans, Takeshima to the Japanese—is in the center of a fishing area. Both Japan and Korea claim the islet which lacks drinking water among other things.

Hitler Technique Becomes Common In Washington Scene

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—For some time a new technique of government operation has been taking place in Washington. It is a technique of revenge by investigation, of threat, retaliation, and political blackmail; a technique reminiscent of Hitler's day and hitherto almost unknown in government.

Those who have introduced and employed this technique are the junior senator from Wisconsin and the little group immediate around him. The technique has grown to such an extent that it has now almost become a pattern. It began when McCarthy raised money to defeat Senator Tydings of Maryland after Tydings refused to concur in McCarthy's Communist charges against the State Department. And it continued through the campaign to defeat Senator Benton in Connecticut, right down to the recent attempt to defeat Senator Margaret Chase Smith in Maine.

The above cases are well known. But the cases which the public doesn't know about, when stacked up together, present an amazing record of intimidation illustrating the new Hitler technique. Here is part of the record:

When McCarthy learned that Struve Hensel, assistant secretary of defense, had written the Army memo dealing with Cohn-Schine, he sent two investigators, Don Surine, once fired by the FBI, and Jim Juliana, to New York to probe Mr. Hensel's business activities. And on March 25 at 9:30 p.m., a man called at the home of Mrs. William T. Creagan, 325 East Seventh Street, Brooklyn, mother-in-law of Hensel's former business associate, Arthur L. Peirson. The man identfiied himself as a detective from police headquarters and wanted to know where Mrs. Creagan's daughter, Mrs. Arthur L. Peirson, resided.

Phony Cop

Mrs. Creagan asked why he wanted to know and was told that her daughter had been in a hit-and-run accident, had left the scene of an accident, and the police were looking for her.

Mrs. Creagan is a lady in her eighties, and naturally news that her daughter had hit-and-run agitated her greatly. She gave the alleged policeman her daughter's address in Vineland, N. J., but later that night was still weeping when her daughter happened to call and assured her that she had been in no hit-and-run accident, nor in any accident of any kind.

Next day Surine and Juliana, McCarthy's gumshoe men, located Hensel's partner, Peirson, in Vineland and admitted that his address was secured from his mother-in-law. However, there was no secret about Hensel's address and they could have obtained it through ordinary business channels.

McCarthy, who also secured a confidential copy of Hensel's income tax returns from his friend Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews, has now admitted that he had no case against Hensel but was following the "kick-'em-below-the-belt" technique once taught him by Indian Charlie back in Wisconsin.

Cohn's Techniques

McCarthy is not the only man who has used this technique. His counsel, Roy Cohn, used it on Senator Jackson of Washington when the senator showed up Cohn's friend, Private Schine, and his juvenile theory of psychological warfare. Cohn had been investigating Jackson's past and came to the Senate hearings with a file ostentatiously labeled "Jackson's Record."

Also when Col. Earl Ringler at Fort Dix refused to give Private Schine certain privileges, Cohn decided to do a "rundown" on him, in other words, investigate him.

McCarthy also went after Time magazine following critical stories about him. First he accused Time of following the Communist line and wrote every advertiser asking that they cancel their advertising. When this failed to change Time's editorial policy, McCarthy who is chairman of the subcommittee on Post Office appropriations, proceeded to bulldoze Time in connection with its second-class mail privileges.

McCarthy secured from Postmaster General Summerfield figures on the cost of Time's mail subsidy and in a committee hearing proceeded to draw out the fact that Time had received about $17,000,000 through second-class mailing priviliges. He claimed this was a profit at the expense of the taxpayers.

Probes Fellow Senators

Just how many fellow senators McCarthy has kept a record on is not known. It is known that he has been checking on Symington of Missouri, McClellan of Arkansas, and Hennings of Missouri. At one time when Hennings was serving on the subcommittee charged with probing McCarthy, McCarthy accused Hennings of employing Communists. Hennings asked that the FBI investigate his entire staff and disproved the charge.

What makes the McCarthy revenge technique particularly sinister is the fact that he operates in part with private money, yet he has the power of Senate subpoena and is able to obtain income tax returns. Thousands of dollars have been poured into McCarthy's hand by the Texas oil millionaires and others which, in effect, give him his own SS elite corps of private probers, financed by private funds, yet using the power and prestige of the U.S. government.

Furthermore, he seems able to get income tax returns at will, even thought they are not supposed to be given him without a vote of the Senate investigating committee.

Here are some of the others who have incurred McCarthy's ire and felt the whiplash of his revenge technique: The Saturday Evening Post, which he accused of following the instructions of Gus Hall, secretary of the Communist party. . . . James Wechsler, editor of the New York Post, who was put on the McCarthy grid for two days of cross-examination. Wechsler had been critical of McCarthy and also of McCarthy's friend, Walter Winchell. . . . The Christian Science Monitor was accused of following the line of the Communist Daily Worker. . . . Russell Wiggins, editor of The Washington Post, was berated by McCarthy because he dared defend Wechsler. . . . The St. Louis Post-Dispatch; Cartoonist Herb Block; The Washington Post; The Portland Oregonian; The Madison, Wis., Capital Times; John Steele of the United Press . . . are just a few of those who have felt the sting of McCarthy's revenge technique merely because they dared to disagree.

The Readers Write—

IRWIN, RAUT, 703 West Seventh—I have been watching with interest and some apprehension the fierce fight of the chain grocery stores for business in Sedalia. They seem to have forgotten that in the final analysis price, quality and the good will of the people will determine who gets the trade. Long hours, Sunday opening, air conditioning are in a sense only stunts. If one store starts these things all the others will follow and the line of battle is back again where it was at first—at price, quality and public good will. And good will, by the way, is an item not to be forgotten. A store that violates the Sunday closing law, or forces itself on a neighborhood where it is not wanted, may gain a temporary advantage over its competitors, but in the end will lose out.

Sedalia is a law abiding, church going, Christian community. Sedalia is interested in its youth. The prosperity of Sedalia is not determined by the number of foreign owned chain stores that are in the community. Chain stores are here to make money, not to build the town. The citizens want a good place to live and rear a family. Let the issue be clearly drawn. Let the chain stores get together on the fundamental basis of competition—price and quality. They must realize that the citizens have a right to a decent, law abiding community. Sunday opening is a violation of the city ordinance, the state law and the religious sentiment of the people.

It is to be hoped that the chain stores will get together with the local grocers and the good people of the town. Let us not have a fight over this matter. Someone may get hurt.

Strings On Reciprocal Trade Act Would Ruin Its Value

By Ruth Millett

To avoid a bitter intraparty fight in Congress, President Eisenhower gave up this year his proposal for a three-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act and other features designed to step up the flow of trade between America and its free world friends.

The President indicated he would be satisfied, for the moment, with the same old one-year extension Congress has been voting time after time. He undoubtedly thought he was making a pretty reasonable consession. But the opponents of the program appear to have regarded it simply as an invitation to further assault.

Led by Chairman Daniel Reed of the House Ways and Means Committee, these forces want to attach to a one-year renewal a proviso that would just about destroy its meaning.

They wish to exact a commitment that during the renewed life of the act the President will negotiate no new trade agreements.

In other words, they are willing to grant the White House reciprocal trade authority if it promises not to use it. One finds it difficult to imagine what but the barest of surface appearances is preserved by this intent to give with the right hand and take back with the left.

If it is the real desire and intent of sizable forces in Congress to kill the Reciprocal Trade program, let them declare their purposes and fight for them. Then the issue will be drawn for all to understand, for the President surely would array himself in thorough opposition to such proposals.

If the President's opponents will not enter this frank combat, he should at least make it clear to them and to the people that, in rejecting their strings to the one-year extension (as he is reported ready to do), he understands what they are driving at.

As has been said a good many times before, a lot of the people who balk at any lowering of America's tariff barriers are the same ones who shout most loudly about the inability of our foreign friends to sustain their own economies, or their insistance on trading elsewhere, even with Russia and other Communist lands.

One cannot escape the conclusion that these people believe our friends abroad are supposed to sustain themselves by some sort of magic.

We don't want them to increase their trade with us, we don't want them getting aid from us, and we don't want them trading with countries we disapprove of.

Unfortunately, the trade situations these nations find themselves in do not always lend themselves neatly to the pattern of our likes and dislikes.

The men who would further restrict our foreign trade never really say how they would meet this problem. They simply duck it or shrug it off.

But it is the heart of the matter. Until they crapple with it, how can they argue that the cause they champion is really in the whole country's interest? For we have a very selfish stake in the well-being of our friends abroad.

Wise Money

One can hardly be cast down by the news the Army is sending some of its officers to school at Syracuse University to find out how to spend money wisely.

The military establishment always has been notorious for wastefulness, even with the finest intentions. Some of this is perhaps inevitable in the nature of military operations.

When you are building security for a nation, you cannot safely calculate that you will need only so many bullets and shells—and not one single extra load. You must have a margin, and a good one.

Nevertheless, this fact has too often been employed as an excuse for inefficient and unscientific spending. It is heartening that the Army understands the problem and is taking the initiative in doing something about it.

No establishment of government is more difficult to police financially from the outside; the control must really come from within.

Hard-Way Lesson

Republican congressmen have found out the hard way since President Eisenhower's inauguration that it's more complicated and difficult to be the party in power in Washington than it is to be in the minority.

When the Republicans were "outs" they could blame all their troubles on the Democrats. Now the GOP has to take the blame itself.

The World Today—

Where's Cold War Initiative?

(By James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, in his State of the Union message last Jan. 7, proudly proclaimed this country had seized the initiative in the cold war with communism.

Whatever happened to that initiative?

Here, six months later, instead of having the Communists on the defensive, this country has been baffled on two fronts: Diplomatically, at the Geneva conference and militarily, in Indochina.

The Eisenhower administration had 16 months—between the time it took office in January 1953 and last April when the Indochina War between the French and the Communist-led Vietminh reached a crisis—to work out a plan if crisis came.

In that time the President and members of his administration repeatedly had talked of the importance of keeping Indochina out of Communist hands, saying if it fell all Southeast Asia might go like so many dominoes.

But when the showdown came—the crisis in Indochina began to develop just before the foreign ministers' conference opened in Geneva April 26—it turned out the administration had no plan at all.

Instead, it scurried around trying to find a way to save Indochina. It urged the French and British to join it in united action in Indochina. The British wouldn't buy.

The administration has never publicly stated what form this united action would take. It may not know. Eisenhower's advisers were divided on what kind of action—and whether any action—should be taken.

It was Secretary of State Dulles who was the big talker. He spoke ominously of the "massive retaliation" this country would invoke if the Chinese Communists invaded Indochina to help the Vietminh.

This startled America's European allies, who could envision themselves engulfed in an atomic war. But, instead of startling the Chinese, it may have amused them.

They didn't have to send troops into Indochina to help the Vietminh. The Vietminh had manpower. What it needed was supplies, equipment, and Chinese advisers and technicians. China sent them.

The net result: The Vietminh crushed the French at Dien Bien Phu and have been pushing them back since; rising Vietminh prestige probably won them new Indochinese recruits by the thousands; and the will of the French to win in Indochina was mauled.

Meanwhile, the administration set out to deal with the Communists diplomatically at Geneva where the foreign ministers of the United States (Dulles), Britain (Eden), France (Bidault), Russia, (Molotov) and China (Chou En-lai) began their conference April 26.

Dulles opened with a disaster. This was his publicly known failure, on the very eve of the conference, to get the British and French to join in united action in Indochina.

The French, according to reports, sought American intervention but Dulles balked without British help. The British didn't want to get into a shooting war before they had a chance to see whether the Indochina problem could be settled at Geneva.

Thus the conference opened with a split between the United States and its Allies. Dulles endured this setback just one week and came home. In his place he left Undersecretary Walter Bedell Smith. Smith came home this week in low spirits.

When the Vietminh crushed the French at Dien Bien Phu, the French threw out Premier Joseph Laniel and his Cabinet, including Bidault. They picked as the new Premier Pierre Mendes-France.

He took office in the midst of a rising French demand for peace in Indochina. He promised to get it in 30 days or quit. He journeyed yesterday to Bern to see Chou En-lai. Afterwards he said he hoped for "happy progress." What this meant was not known.

It might mean an armistice giving the Vietminh most of Viet Nam, the biggest of Indochina's three states. That might soon lead to Communist absorption of all Viet Nam and the other two states.

Bob Thomas In Hollywood—

Eve Arden Is Not Really Miss Brooks of Film Role

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Is Eve Arden really Our Miss Brooks and vice versa?

Now that may sound like an odd question to you, but it's an issue that has fascinated me. I'm always interested in measuring the disparity, if any, between real-life actors and roles they play.

Some stars fit their movie characters like a glove. Bob Hope is the same fun-loving, wisecracking guy on or off the screen, although he may have more serious moments off. Katharine Hepburn has the same brittle, unattainable quality in real life. Errol Flynn, at least in his younger days, was a gay blade whether or not he was before the camera.

But many others are far removed from the public's conception of them. Jack Benny is not tight-fisted, as witness his outlay for his daughter's wedding. Jane Russell is no slinky siren, but a wholesome girl with a strong religious inclination. Reporters have found Danny Kaye is not the gay buffoon; he can be cold and cutting.

The issue is complicated in Eve Arden's case because she has two identities with the public. In one, she is the Eve Arden of films, the friend of the heroine who can always be counted on for acaustic remark at the end of the scene. In the other, she is the more gentle Miss Brooks, a much-harassed schoolteacher on the prowl for Mr. Boynton, another faculty member.

I discussed all about Eve's alter egos with the real Miss Arden, the one who is pregnant. We sat in her car in a drive-in restaurant on the Sunset Strip while she munched a late-afternoon hamburger—"I'm always hungry."

"I can't tell you much about the movie roles I played, because I've never cared for the character I generally played in films.

"I certainly don't think it was me. I really think I'm kinder than that. My friends will tell you that I'm a very mild person.

"And I don't think Our Miss Brooks is me either. I don't believe I'm that harassed. At least it's a different kind of harassment. In Miss Brooks, I'm harassed by people above me—the principal, for example. In real life, my trouble comes from people under me—the housekeeper, the dressmaker, and so forth.

"And though Miss Brooks is no dope, I like to think that I am a little more hep than she is."

SOMEBODY GAVE a little duck to a family of five children, four boys and a girl, and the older children of the family named their new pet Mr. Peepers.

Two year old Jimmy had never seen a duck before and he was very impressed with the shape of its neck. So Jimmy came up with a name of his own for the little duck. He calls it Noodle Neck.

The house was in quite a turmoil for about half an hour one morning. Company came and one of the youngsters brought the duck in to show him off. But Noodle Neck got away from him and it took the whole household about 30 minutes to catch him again and get him out of the house.—H. L.

STREET ROD

XXX

RICKY MADISON sat alone in the Deliville Drug at the soda fountain.

He heard the front door open but the didn't care who it was.

"Ricky . . ."

He looked reluctantly, self-conscious because he knew his right eye was still discolored and his lips were still puffy. And there was a scab on his forehead where a scrape was healing.

She stood close, looking at him with her wide, serious, gray-green eyes, as though trying to look behind his eyes and read what was in his mind.

"I thought you'd call me."

He blushed. "I didn't think you'd want to see me until I . . . looked a little better."

"As though that mattered. How are you coming with your plans for the auto show?"

He looked at her shamefacedly. There was an expression of disappointment on her pretty face.

"I thought it over. I wouldn't have a chance, Sharon. Not a chance. Gosh, there'll be guys there with dream jobs. I'd look foolish with what I've got."

She looked at him searchingly, noticing his hesitancy and lack of confidence. "Is that the only reason? Because you're afraid you won't win?"

"I don't have the money . . . or the time. . . I'd be foolish to try."

"What about the DTA?" Sharon asked.

Ricky shrugged and looked outside. There was only one answer. He didn't want to be a lone wolf. He'd just take his old place with the guys again. Following Link. A guy had to have friends, and do what they did. Even if they did have a fight once in a while. That didn't mean anything. And he'd lead Link home some night.

"It's hopeless, Sharon. Why try to kid myself?"

"For a long time, Ricky, you've been telling everybody about your wonderful ideas for custom bodies, and the business you were going to start. Isn't it time you either put up or shut up?"

"Huh?" He was startled.

"This is your chance. You say you have good ideas, but the first chance you get to show what you can do, you turn chicken."

• • •

RICKY looked at her for a moment. "Let me show you something," he said quietly. "Wait here." He went out to his car and came back with a portfolio in his hand. "Let me show you some of my designs."

He opened the portfolio to the first, a long, low sports car with sweeping lines. "Like it?"

"It's beautiful!"

"Yeah. I could make my coupe look like that—for about $5000. And look at this design. Like it?"

Sharon nodded.

"Nice. But I forgot the state has laws about the minimum height of headlights and minimum road clearance. If I change to obey the laws, my design won't work at all. Even if these designs were good, I couldn't afford to have them built."

"So?"

"So," Ricky said. "So what's the use of trying to enter the auto show? I can't build anything anyone would want to buy, or have me build."

"Wait a minute," Sharon said. "Wait a minute. Come outside, Ricky. Please."

He followed her out. They stood in front of his coupe.

"Ricky, have you seen any other coupes that look like yours?"

"Only about a million. Every other rod in Iowa looks like this. Black, shaved, rear end lowered.

"How many of those drivers do you think would like their cars to look—well, a little different from the others?"

He scratched his head thoughtfully. "Yeah . . . yeah, I see. Suppose I modified my coupe just enough so it was something different."

"Make the best of what you have, Ricky," Sharon urged. "This is a show for street rods. Make yours the most attractive one at the show. Show them what can be done with an old car for a reasonable amount."

"It would advertise my business," Ricky said, beginning to get excited.

"And I might help you design."

"You?" Ricky asked incredulously.

"Well, you'll be surprised how much help I can give you. Anyone can draw a pretty dress, Ricky, but one that looks good on paper and one that looks good on p e o p l e—they're sometimes two different dresses. And I know it's the same with cars."

• • •

HE went to the coupe and drew lines with his finger to show her what he had in mind.

"I'd like to start fairly high in front, see, and make a long line that sweeps back and down. Then, about three-quarters of the way back, I want to start my second line, a little higher than the end of the first, and sweep that back and down. No boxy look, no lightning zigzags or that kind of chrome-plated stuff. Just something simple, almost severe, but graceful."

"Just like a dress," Sharon said. "A cheap dress can hide bad lines under a lot of ruffles and sashes. But the hardest thing in the world to make is a simple black dress. It has to be good or it shows."

"That's what I want," Ricky said. "Something simple, that shows good."

He looked up at the sound of a goose horn in the street. Link was there in his convertible, followed by Chub, Jerry and Sherm. "You coming?" Link yelled. It was a command.

Ricky hesitated. He'd made a fool out of himself so many times with his big talk. He looked at Sharon. She looked away. It was his decision.

"We're going to Des Moines," Link said. "Come on."

They were shot through an $1800 anamorphic lens. The top view was taken vertically and the bottom view was taken horizontally. Says Education Dept. to Give States Free Rein

NEW YORK (AP)—U.S. Education Commissioner Samuel Brownell said today the policy of his office is one of noninterference with the states on segregation questions.

Commenting on the Supreme Court decision banning segregation in public schools, Brownell said his office would help the states "when they want us to" but that "we do not want to interfere in your activities."

The commissioner, a brother of Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell, addressed a convention of the National Council of Chief State School Officers.

Commissioner Brownell said he believed it important to have "education in the hands of the community."

"I always try to remind myself," he said, "that public education is the people's education."

He spoke in favor of state action on most matters, with his federal office serving as a form of clearing house for advice and research and coordination of state activities.

Brownell said his office would attempt to reduce federal control of vocational education grants and allow the states more latitude in using federal grants for vocational education.

Humphrey Says People Deserve to Get Data On Latest Weapons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) said today the people are entitled to "reliable and consistent" reports from defense leaders on this nation's new weapons and technical progress compared with Russia.

Humphrey said "confusing and conflicting" statements came from the conference of defense leaders at nearby Quantico, Va., last weekend.

Asst. Secretary of Defense Quarles, in charge of research and development, was quoted as saying that the margin between American and Russian progress in technological weapons had narrowed.

Soon afterward Secretary of Defense Wilson told reporters the United States still has a "two- or three-year" advantage in this field over Russia.

Humphrey, in a speech prepared for the Senate, said "it is absolutely vital that the "American people should receive information on this score which is reliable."

Western Garden Stew Is Delightful Vegetable Treat

WESTERN garden stew glorifies fresh vegetables in a main-course dish.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Like vegetables fresh from the garden or garden-fresh from your vegetable store? If you do, this recipe for Garden Stew from California will delight you.

Let's pause for a few hints on how to select vegetables for freshness:

Sure signs of freshness: stalk vegetables (such as celery) should have tender but firm stems; with good color; pod vegetables (such as snap beans) should be free of bruises, firm and crisp; root vegetables (carrots) should have good color and be smooth, crisp, clean-looking and bright in color; flower vegetables (broccoli) should have clusters that are tight and close together, and should be firm and crisp.

Western Garden Stew

Twelve small new potatoes, 1 bunch or 1 pound carrots, 1 medium stalk celery, 1 bunch green onions, 2 pounds fresh peas (2 cups shelled), 1 green pepper, 1 large or 2 small tomatoes, parsley or celery leaves, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 2 cups water, 1 bouillon cube or 1 tablespoon concentrated meat extract, salt and pepper.

Scrape or pare the potatoes and carrots. Break celery into branches, wash and remove tops. Clean and wash onions. Shell peas. Cut tomatoes into quarters, and green pepper into sixths. Leave potatoes, carrots and onions whole. Boil potatoes about 5 minutes in salted water. Drain. Place in large skillet with remaining vegetables.

In a saucepan, melt butter or margarine. Blend in cornstarch. Gradually stir in water. Dissolve bouillon cube or meat extract in sauce. Pour over vegetables. Cover. Simmer for 20 minutes. Season to taste. Serve piping hot with garlic French bread, tossed green salad with cottage cheese dressing, chilled custard with crushed fresh fruit, beverage.

Ostrich Grows Up

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Zoo says its baby ostrich, Oscar, is the only one ever raised successfully in a northern zoo. Now 6½ feet tall, Oscar pecked his way out of a king-size egg last September. He was only 12 inches tall then.

Red Methods Cited

HONG KONG (AP) — Chinese Communists are forcing Shanghai business men to operate their own businesses for the profit of the Reds, says a Hong Kong trade paper. Here's how the paper says they do it:

They accuse a firm of tax defaults, profiteering or exploiting. The bill is bigger than the company can pay and the plant is declared a public-private enterprise. The management is forced to work with the Communist cadres until, as the paper puts it, the Reds "learn the difference between hay and a bull's foot."

Further pressure comes from Red control of markets. So far this year, 13 of the biggest Shanghai factories have become public-private. Most of them had been crippled by tax claims, fines and lack of markets. Now they are prosperous with a flood of government orders, the paper says.

Bob Thomas In Hollywood—

Mary Martin Proves Stars Can Do Roles Over Again

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Mary Martin is living proof of the theory that stars shouldn't be afraid of playing roles that have been done before.

A few years ago, her manager and husband, Richard Halliday, saw Ethel Merman in "Annie Get Your Gun" and told Mary: "You'd better not see it; you're liable to cut your throat. It's the kind of a role you've wanted all your life."

The singing star didn't heed his advice. She went to see the show. On the way out, he asked, "would you like a razor now?"

"No," she replied. "I'm going to play 'Annie' on the road."

And she did. Much to the surprise of producers Rodgers and Hammerstein, she agreed to a tour throughout the United States. This startled Broadwayites, since Mary was a top star in her own right and didn't need to do road companies of Merman hits.

The Martin version of "Annie Get Your Gun" was an eye-opener. I can still recall the pleasant surprise of watching Mary, who had specialized in gentler things, throw herself into the raucous role of Annie Oakley. The show was a revelation for the producers, too. They had her in mind when they wrote a show called "South Pacific."

After playing Nellie Forbush for five years, Mary did a straight play, "Kind Sir." It was a dismal thing, although it did good business on the strength of its stars, Miss Martin and Charles Boyer.

Now she is literally taking a flier on "Peter Pan." A new musical version of the Barrie play is being put together by the Civic Light Opera for Los Angeles and San Francisco. Broadway" maybe — it depends on how well it turns out.

Mary is doing the show even though Jean Arthur played Pan with success only a few years back.

"Jean and I are good friends," said Mary. "She is godmother for my daughter Heller. We often talked about how we would like to play Peter Pan some day. Jean got her opportunity, and she was wonderful. Now I'm getting my chance.

"I see no harm in doing a role that has been done before. I felt that way about following Merman in 'Annie,' and I feel the same about 'Peter Pan.' Every once in a while there comes along someone who seems suited to play it—Maude Adams, Eva LaGallienne, Jean Arthur, to name a few. I want a chance, too.

"Besides, I've always wanted to fly under my own power. I've long had a recurring dream to that effect. This is the fulfillment of a great urge."

Mary's hair is now orange and cut like a boy's, so she requires frequent trims. Heller, who is 12, is excited about her role.

"I play Liza, and it's a very good part," she enthused. "I get to hit the pirates over the head."

This is Heller's return to the theater. She played Annie's little sister in "Annie Get Your Gun."

A long-term trend toward lower consumption of wine in the world has produced large surpluses in a number of countries.
